Nest: lake service area 'loony'

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Residents of Eagles Nest subdivision on the west side of Hwy. 83 in Antioch Twp. and its developer John Gridley are upset about being considered a part of the Lake County Special Service Area No. 8.

This is the area in Antioch Twp. that borders Lake Villa Twp., near East Loon Lake and West Loon Lake.

Eagles Nest residents say that they have no lake rights so they do not feel that they should be assessed for the revitalizing of County says water drainage makes 'Nesters' responsible lakes that they are separated from by Rte. 83. They claim that the main reason they have been included in the special service area is that the property values in the subdivision are the highest, ergo their assessment monies are needed by proponents of the lake cleanup.

They add that they do not belong to any

Loon Lakes Property Owners Assn., so they will not have a voice in how any assessment monies are spent.

But the Lake County Health Dept. claims fertilizer from the land in Eagles Nest runs into West Loon Lake and through a channel into East Loon Lake, therefore these property owners should help revitalize the lakes.

Health department representatives say that if the special service area becomes law, it will be a first in Lake County and create a precedent for lake revitalization in the area.

Loon Lakes resident Nick Teister has for years been trying to get the lakes cleaned up. He was instrumental in the purchase of a weed cutter by the property owners association a few years ago.

Because of the lack of funds for lake revitalization because most of the property owners living on land surrounding both lakes are retired, Teister and his attorney approached the county board and the county suggested the formation of a special service area and proceeded to set up the border lines at Grimm Rd., Rte. 173 and Beach Grove Rd. on the north; Prairie Ave. on the west; Grass Lake Rd. on the south and Hwy. 36 or Deep Lake Rd. on the east.

The county estimates the special assessment of property owners in this area will generate $50,000 annually, based on the 1988 equalized assessed valuation of the properties included in the special service area which totals $13,178,727.

A special hearing on the formation of the special service area was held at the Antioch Senior Citizen Center last week.

They intend to establish a management authority; create a long term management plan; create a comprehensive plan for integrated plant management that includes harvesting and its alternatives; and create watershed management and recreation zones to reduce use conflicts.

The opponents of the special service area can stop the imposition of said taxes only by objecting to the special service area's creation through the filing of a petition with the Lake County Clerk's office signed by at least 51 percent of the electors residing in the proposed special service area. It must also be signed by at least 51 percent of the owners of record of the land included within the boundaries of the proposed special service area, within 60 days following the adjournment of the public hearing.

Illinois gets into racing controversy

There's a lot of local controversy surrounding the plans for a high-powered auto race track in Bristol, near the Wisconsin-Illinois border.

Now residents of Illinois might be getting into the act.

With Antioch located near the proposed racetrack site, Antioch's Mayor Robert Wilton has already said he is not in favor of the track.

"I don't see that track as being of any value to our area and I do see an increase in cost for road maintenance and traffic control brought about by racing fans from the south and west traveling through our village and township," said Wilton.

Antioch Twp. Supv. Jim Fields said that he did not expect the track to have any impact on the Antioch area.

Four trustees of the Antioch Village Board seem to think that the track could affect Antioch, with Trustee Don Amundsen asking that the Ill. Environmental Protection Agency be brought into the act because of possible air pollution from the race track.

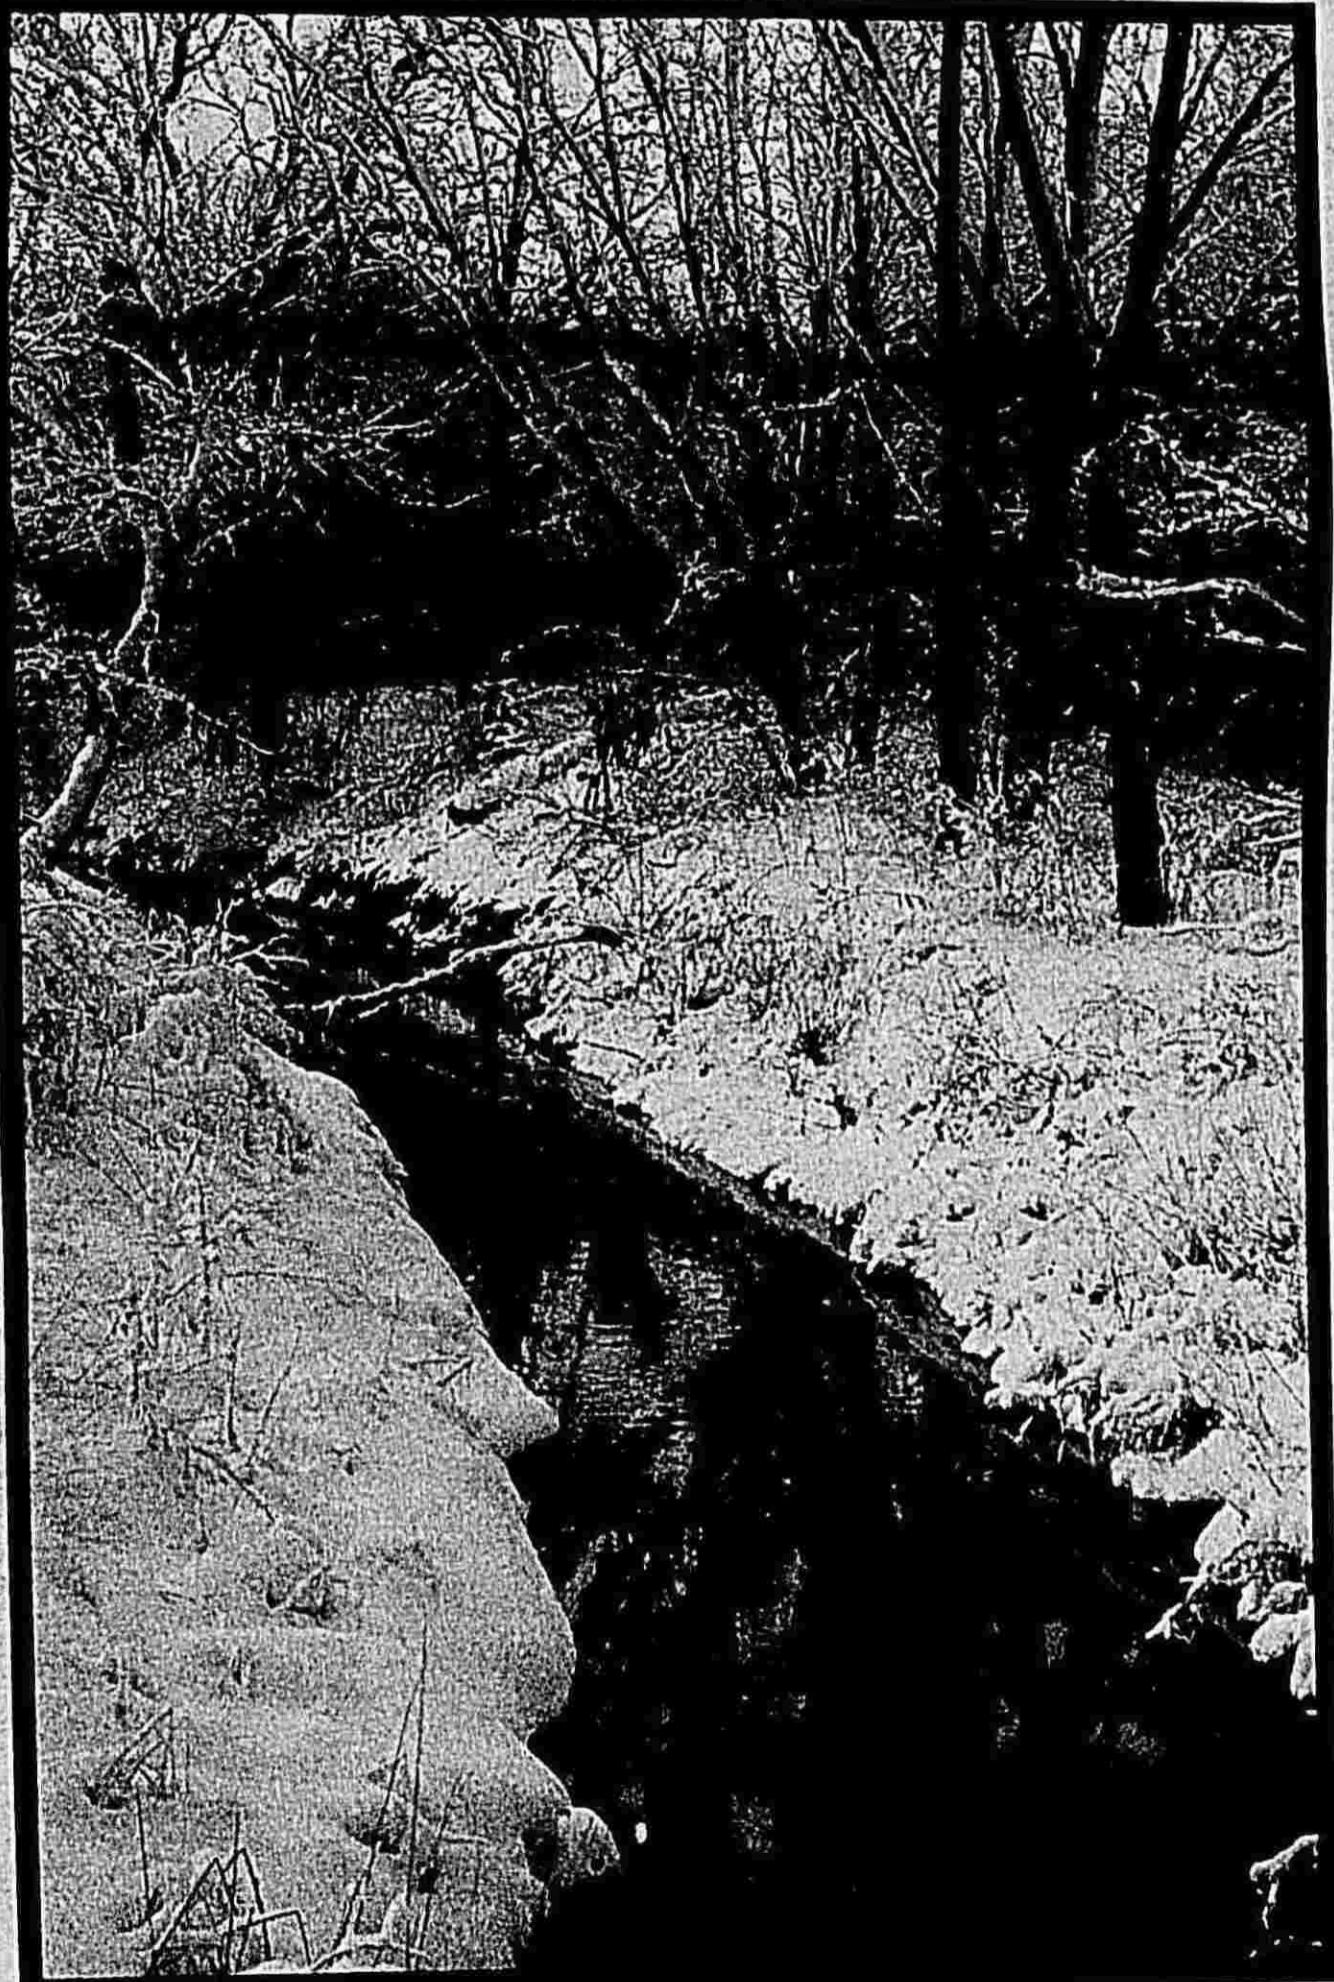

Trustees Larry Hansen and Margaret Shinsing said that they would like to know more about the track before voting on the matter.

The Bristol Community Action Committee, a group of over 200 people opposing the track, is depending on the Wis. Dept. of Natural Resources to hold the building of the track at bay by taking up to six months to consider the application for an air quality permit by track developer Brainerd International.

With the land sale not even complete and many permits yet to be acquired, the scheduled opening of the track this summer could be held up, either temporarily or permanently.

With all the rallys and the publicity generated by opposition to the track, Bristol Sup. Bernie Gunty, who to date has been non-committal about the track, says that people will be able to hear the other side of the coin when Brainerd President David Ames makes a presentation on the pros of the track, at 7 p.m., on Monday, Feb. 12, at the Bristol Grade School.

Gunty also mentioned that the board was trying to get some of the investors in the track, such as Walter Payton and Paul Newman, to talk to residents, but neither had committed at press time.

Fickle weather beautiful

So far, the unpredictable winter of 1989-90 has ranged from bitter cold, to unseasonably warm, to record snowfalls, and back again. Snow of last week, making icy fairyland out of Lake and Kenosha Counties, gave way to temperatures in the upper 40s at press time. Who knows what tricks Mother Nature will be up to by the time this show of nature's icy artistry decorating Sequoia Creek in Antioch appears. —Photo by Gloria Davis

GOP headquarters is Neal dream come true

Opening of the new county campaign headquarters for the Republican Party at 325 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville, is a dream since he became county chairman in 1982, said Robert Neal.

The headquarters opened this week as a "rallying place for the supporters of all of the executive committee's endorsed candidates," according to a press release.

Libertyville Twp. Republican precinct committeemen have taken issue with the opening of the headquarters under the official Republican banner and support of two candidates for the County Board in Dist. 5—Robert Depke of Warren Twp. and Vernon Hills Trustee Pam Newton—with large banners in the window of the former Clifford Chrysler dealership.

Neal said funding for the headquarters comes from the Libertyville-based Taxpayers for Good Government. Chairman is Jack Martin of the Libertyville Saddle Shop. Another officer is Pat Connors, another township political activist. This is the same group that financed Ralph Swank Jr. in his defeat of incumbent township Sup. F.T. "Mike" Graham. Contributions are made to Taxpayers for Good Government or his personal campaign fund prior to transfer, Neal said.

"I have gone out and solicited some funds in order to get our endorsed candidates elected," Neal said.

This is the first county-wide election headquarters, ever, Neal said. He said a long-time storefront office at 128 N. Genesee St., Waukegan, is a party headquarters, not a campaign headquarters.

Neal defended an attachment to his Feb. 5 press release headlined: "Republican candidates for March 20 primary election endorsed by the Executive Committee of the Lake County Republican Central Committee."

Pat Uriate, chairman of the Libertyville Twp. Republican Party, which has made separate endorsements, takes issue with those words. She said seven township Republican chairman in Dist. 5 met Nov. 27 at the request of Shawn Depke, Warren Twp. party chairman and son of Robert Depke, candidate for the County Board in the upcoming election. Using the one-man, one-vote procedure, the group endorsed Depke and Newton. Uriate voted "no."

Uriate called this group was a sub-committee of the executive committee. She also noted the Nov. 27 endorsement was made before the election filing deadline of mid-December.

In mid-January the Libertyville Twp. Republican committeemen met and endorsed incumbent County Board member Carol Calabresa of Libertyville and Libertyville Trustee Donald Coulson. Weighted voting procedures were used, giving committeemen voting strength based on registered voters in their precincts.

Neal admitted the party's executive committee has made no endorsements. However, he said similar committees—chairman from each township in the County Board district—have the option of meeting in coming weeks to make similar endorsements. "As the district committees endorse, we will publicize and promote those endorsements," Neal said. He said this procedure has been followed in past elections.

Bowl for Kids' Sake to benefit Big Brother/Sister

Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Lake County will hold its ninth annual Bowl For Kids' Sake Challenge Days on Sunday, Feb. 18 at Bertrand Bowling Lanes in Waukegan and March 4 at Hawthorn Lanes in Vernon Hills from noon to 4 p.m.

All Lake County residents are challenged to form a team of six friends to make a difference in a child's life. It doesn't matter how well you bowl as everyone gets a minimum score of 100 and it won't cost your team a dime to bowl on either Challenge Day. A completed sponsor sheet for each bowler is the only price of admission.

The sole purpose of Bowl For Kids' Sake is to raise money to recruit, screen and match new Big Brothers, Big Sisters or couples with the kids from single-parent families needing a special friend.

The grand prize is a trip for two to either California or Las Vegas, winner's choice. Bowlers will receive one chance for the grand prize drawing for each $25 pledge money collected.

Special drawings and t-shirts are available for business and groups designating three generals, those who recruit five or more team captains. IMC, Fertilizer, Inc., Allstate and Sara Lee have already taken up this challenge.

Hot 102.3 WXLC will provide music and MC the event with celebrity Jim Novak and send a team.

League bowlers may choose to participate in Bowl For Kids' Sake during their regular league play at the following bowling centers throughout February: Antioch Bowling Lanes, Bertrand Bowling Lanes in Waukegan, Country Lanes in Lake Zurich, Hawthorn Lanes in Vernon Hills, Lakes Bowl in Round Lake and Mundelein Bowl.

Major sponsors are IMC, Fertilizer, Inc. and U.S. Cable of Lake County. Many businesses are providing support and sponsorship of this event: Allstate, Arbour Florist, Baxter healthcare, J.W. Blaines, Ltd., Chicago Bears, Chicago Bulls, Cabriolet Restaurant, Chemlawn, Concepts hair Design, Deerfield park Dist., The Deepth Inn, Eddie Bauer's, Egg Harbor Cafe, Fantastic Sam's, Forms Corp. of America, Holiday Inn of Gurnee, Hot Tickets Video, Inacomp, Inc., Jewel Food Stores, Lake Car Wash, Madison Ave. Restaurant, Monogram Models, Pickard, Inc., Red Noodle Restaurant, Six Flags Great America, Southgate Cafe, Sweats 'N' Stuff, Twist-N-Curl Styling and Tanning Salon, Walgreen Co., Westinghouse Nuclear Training Center and 3X Copy Centers.

There will be many raffle and incentive prizes, music and complimentary snacks. Join the party fun and be a "celebrity" for the kids. Call (708)360-0770 to register and get sponsor sheets.

Holtz retirement gala to be held on Feb. 24

Jim Fields and the Antioch Twp. Board and staff have invited everyone to a gala retirement dinner for R. G. (Bud) Holtz, Antioch Twp. assessor for 16 years.

The dinner is set for 6:30 p.m., on Saturday, Feb. 24, at the Antioch Golf Course at the intersection of Rte. 59 and Grass Lake Rd.

Anyone who would like to be involved in a program for Holtz with a special presentation or short story about him, can call Kathy Smith at the township hall, (708) 395-3378.

The cost of the dinner is $15. Reservations should be made at the town hall by Feb. 16.

Holtz has lived in the Antioch area since he moved here from Wisconsin in 1933. He owned and operated Bud's Tavern until 1962.

In 1960, he purchased Blarney Island and operated the tavern there until 1972.

He became township assessor in 1973 and also served as a member of the Lake County Board from 1978 to 1982.

He is a member of the Antioch Rescue Squad, the Rotary Club, the Antioch Moose Lodge, the American Legion, Antioch VFW Post 4551, the Lake County Tavern Owners' Assn. and the Antioch Republican Club.

Boy Scout: 'She wasn't heavy, she's my sister'

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Jason and Becky Birren knew they probably shouldn't be playing on the ice of the channel to Bluff Lake, but what kid can resist a slide on the ice?

Becky, 8, later said she went out on the ice with Jason, "so he wouldn't be out there alone."

As they were playing, Jason warned Becky not to go any farther because he had noticed that the ice was beginning to look very thin.

He no sooner had mouthed the warning when there was a sudden loud crackling and Becky screamed as she went through the ice to her chest and was still cracking.

Jason's first impulse was to run over and try to pull Becky out, but he suddenly remembered a safety technique he had been taught at a meeting of Boy Scout Troop 191.

He remembered the first rule, don't panic. Then he laid flat on the ice, spreading his weight around a bigger area, and inched towards his sister, quickly pulling her from the icy waters.

They were playing just a few houses down from their grandmother's house, so they headed back and Jason took his jacket off because Becky was shivering in her wet clothing.

At first they thought they wouldn't have to tell their mom and dad, Paula and Jack Birren, what had happened.

They stopped and took a blanket from the truck parked in front of their grandmother's house and Jason wrapped it around Becky intending to pretend that she had just gotten cold while they were outside playing.

"It was the telltale wet footprints that told me there was more to the blanket," said Paula Birren, adding that each time she thinks about the tragedy that could have occurred, she gets colder than Becky probably was.

Not only is the Birren family proud of Jason's heroic deed, especially his older brother Jack, 12, but when his Troop leaders, Floyd Nobler and Mr. Hirschberger, found out that safety rules that Jason had learned through Scouting were responsible for his clear-headed quick action, they proposed Jason for a National Scouting Safety Award.

Jason is a Weeblo but is due to try for his arrow of light award in a few weeks.

Committees study impact

Antioch Community High School has formed a growth and development advisory committee to study the various options available to the district to accommodate the expected increase in student population.

The committee has been divided into five sub-committees for the purpose of collecting data and providing information to the total committee. The five sub-committees cover the areas of finance, demographics, redistricting and options, curriculum, and present facilities and options.

Members of the committees were selected from all of the geographic areas of the district. The members are: Jim Hintz, chairperson; Dee Alberts, Philip Delany, Beverly Dille, Dave Erickson, John Fleschman, Charles Forster, Marie Gedville, Judy Groh, Joseph Hamm, Richard Harland, Joyce Heneberry, Martha Kuceyeski, Ed Laudenslager, Roger Manderscheid, Janis McKoski, Adrian Mueller, Marvin Oldenburger, Bill Ozga, Dean Parkman, Paul Phillips, Robert Raukohl, Karen Rydberg, Claudette Skvarce, Kris Volodka and Dennis Warner.

An orientation meeting was held in early January and future meetings are scheduled through April.

The advisory committee is expected to give their final report and recommendations to the Antioch High School Board of Education sometime in April.

Athlete of the Week

Jeff Becker has been selected as the Athlete of the Week for his 31 point performance during basketball victory over Fenton. Parents program set for ACHS

The Antioch Community High School Student Assistance Program is sponsoring a very special Parent Awareness Night on Feb. 22. Betsy Houghton, from Deerfield, a national spokesperson for the parent role in drug prevention and intervention, will be presenting a program on successful parenting for the 90's.

This program is for parents of all ages. Being a successful parent has never been more challenging. This is a society of outside influences, and children are forced to make different decisions at an early age.

What pressures do our children feel most? What is the adolescent social scene really like? How strict or lenient should parents be? Can parents set boundaries for children or teens and still maintain open communications with them?

Houghton will address these questions and present how by working together parents can improve their effectiveness. Caring parents and guardians are encouraged to join us at 7 p.m. in the ACHS commons on Feb. 22, for this special presentation.

Parenting

Marge Blunier, L.C.S.W. will be presenting on what parents can do to help children develop ways to manage peer pressure at the Parent Awareness Night on March 6 at 7 p.m. in the ACHS Commons. Plan to attend to learn what factors influence teenagers to make healthy and unhealthy choices and how involvement of parents and students together in the process of developing self-awareness and decision making skills can help students to make critical life decisions. Blunier will also discuss ways parents and school personnel can work together to support positive peer pressure in our students. Remember to mark your calendar for Tuesdays March, 6 at 7 p.m.

Car dealer saves day for customer in winter storm

by LIZ SCHMEHL

Special Friend

Once again writing this column has given me the opportunity to talk with a special person. After last Thursday's snowstorm, I received a call from Frank Split. Frank, who is a long-time resident of Antioch, found himself in a dilemma on that day. He needed to keep a doctor's appointment but could not get out of his driveway because of the snow. He made several calls to area garages to see if he could get someone to come and plow him out. However, his efforts were in vain. Finally he took a long shot and contacted Mark Scarpelli of Raymond Chevy Olds, where Frank had purchased several cars over the years. When Mark heard that Frank needed to get to the doctor, he was "Johnny on the spot" to personally go and plow Frank's driveway. Frank just wanted everyone to know that Raymond Chevy Olds definitely does know how to take care of their customers. Frank also wanted to extend a very special thank you to Mark for coming to his aid. Frank was a resident of Oakwood Knolls for many years before moving to Petite Lake Gardens off of Rena Ave. about 23-years ago. It was nice meeting you, Frank, and discovering we had some Antioch friends in common. Please call again and thanks for taking the time to thank someone for doing a good deed.

Enjoyable Reading

Last week, my neighbors, Connie and Riss Rissman, read "Hometown Goodies" for the first time and they both called to tell me they enjoyed reading it and were proud of me for doing a good job. Then this week another neighbor, Mary Ann Lauer, called to tell me how much she enjoyed reading about Sally Hiller's coffee mug surviving the ride to ACHS on the roof of her car. I thanked her for calling and told her to call me with a tidbit or two. Mary Ann said that her hubby, Ray, are always working and they never get a chance to get involved in anything too exciting. Surely, Mary Ann, you or Ray have done something as "exciting" as traveling around town with a coffee mug on the top of your car. Search your mind and when you remember something to share with us, call me. Meanwhile you made the column, along with Connie and Riss, simply because you were all nice enough to call and tell me you like reading "Hometown Goodies."

Still Working

I just remember that the construction on the Grass Lake Rd. bridge was suppose to be completed by the third week of January. Well, folks, here we are into the second week in February and unless my eyes deceive me, they are still working on the bridge. Well, Mark

Ring, what do you say? Could you look into the delay one more time and let us know where we stand? I have had a few calls concerning this bridge construction again. One party told me she was lined overwhelming response from local businesses taking out patron ads in the school yearbook. Without their much needed support, the price of the yearbook would be much higher. Thanks to their generosity parents in our community to personally thank these patrons when doing business with them.

SL Trip

Friday, Jan. 26, came and went, as did the Grass Lake School Junior High ski trip to Alpine Ski Resort. I was in the school parking lot when all the hardy young athletes returned. One of the first people to disembark from the school bus was the junior high principal, Raymond Liss. He happily reported that no one was left behind and luckily there were no injuries. He said other than everyone having a good time, the trip was relatively uneventful. I guess he didn't know that a caravan of parents driving up in their own cars could have been lost until spring due to a change in the numbering of a highway. Literally dozens of people were searching for Hwy. 36 and ended up here, there, and everywhere as Hwy. 36 is now Hwy. 120. Liss, if you think the ski trip was uneventful, I suggest you talk to Jim Harris, Sally Hiller, Renate Wlezien, Patti Santiemmo, Julie Groh, Marie Brausam, Gary Groh, Ray Brausam, and Ardeen Harris. All of whom are lucky they were able to find Alpine before the spring thaw.

SL Trip

This past week I received a call from Steve Alberts, the wrestling coach at Antioch Upper Grade School. He was happy to report that AUGS took third place in the Harvard Rocket Invitational Tournament. Coach Alberts told me that this is the most prestigious tournament in the area. Eight teams were involved in the competition and ended up with the following scores: Dundee Highlanders Wrestling Club (227 points), Franklin (215 points), AUGS (195 points), Batavia (156 points), Harvard (120 points), Sycamore (79 points), Harlem (37.5 points), and Stillman Valley (20 points). This third place win is the best AUGS has accomplished in the Harvard competition over a 14 year period. Rich Weber of AUGS, 112 pounds, was the outstanding wrestler of this tournament. Rich pinned his first opponent in 1:25 minutes and defeated a Batavia wrestler, holding a 14-0 record in his second match. (Continued on Page 8) up waiting to cross one day for about 15 minutes between the construction trucks blocking the land and the stop light changes. Meanwhile, my advice to everyone is to remember that "patience is a virtue" and "all good things are worth waiting for" -- sometimes!

Preview Tidbit

The following is a preview tidbit. A new restaurant is scheduled to open in the Grass Lake area this spring. A long time friend of mine will be opening the restaurant and as soon as I get more updated information on the name of the restaurant, the scheduled opening, and some special features on the menu, I will let you all in on it. Meanwhile, Grass Lakers, keep your eyes peeled for the opening of this restaurant in our area.

Support Schools

I personally think it is fantastic when area businesses support the various efforts of our local schools. Once again the Grass Lake School yearbook committee has had the yearbook is once again being offered at a reasonable price. The yearbook committee would like to thank the following businesses for their support: C. Haling & Sons, J.J. Blinker Clowning Around, Skandia House, Remax Realty (Bev Kull), The Advertiser, The Short Cut (Sally Hiller), Hauzinger's Floral Acres, First National Bank, Diamond Chemical Co., Power Marine, Inland Harbor, Robert W. Johnston, Boness make allegations

Candidates for Lake County Board Dist. 4 are starting to step forward in their quest for support in Antioch, Avon, Grant and Lake Villa Twp.

Two of the four Republican candidates, Charles Johnston and Robert Boness, both of Round Lake Beach, have started attacking each other's background and track record to gain that needed support.

Boness, a member of the Round Lake Sanitary Dist., who's name became more popular after losing to Carl Schrimpf by only 17 votes last spring in the race for mayor of Round Lake Beach, is rebounding from Johnston's attack which appeared in the Jan. 26 edition of Lakeland Newspapers.

To refresh your memory, Johnston was quoted as saying, "Boness doesn't have a clue about anything," when asked how he felt about his opponents for the upcoming March 20 Primary.

In a letter to the editor, a fired up Boness writes, "He (Johnston) must think everyone in the Round Lake Area is naive and gullible. I don't need clues, a magnifying glass, or help from Sherlock Holmes to know the facts of Johnston's ability to spend taxpayers' money."

He continues, "Charlie strongly supported and voted for the expansion of the Fox Lake sewage treatment plant at the expense of the current residents. He prefers to double our sewage bills rather than charge developers for plant expansion."

"In 1986, before Charlie was appointed

NO RACEWAY IN BRISTOL

We, the people of Bristol opposed to the raceway, want everyone to know a change is coming. Walls and dictators are falling in Bristol, just as they have in East Germany.

After the April election, we will no longer be an island. We will not be constantly fighting with our neighbors. We have rediscovered the democratic process and realize that cooperation and mutual respect will accomplish much more than constant conflict and "one-man-rule."

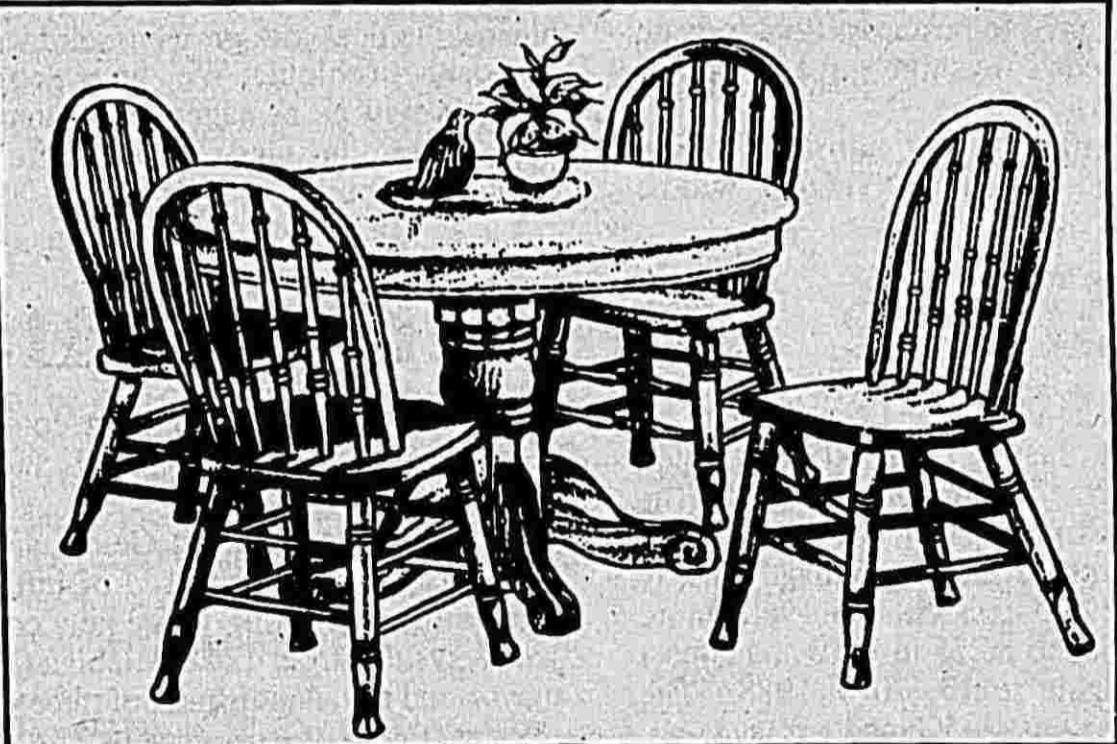

We ask our neighbors—Salem, Paddock Lake, Pleasant Prairie, Antioch, Northern Lake County and anyone else to help us now in our hour of need. All areas will be adversely affected by the proposed racetrack. The 1991 racetrack schedule includes 31 weekends of racing—92 days—from March to the end of October. Not only do we lose our summer, but spring and fall as well.

On February 12, 1990, the president, Mr. David Ames, of the proposed racetrack will be addressing the Bristol Town Board at Bristol Grade School at 7:00 p.m. We wish to fill the gym with people opposing the racetrack. Come and support us. Thank you!

Priorities need adjusting

"Not In My Back Yard." That's what Lincolnshire residents are telling their village board regarding a new fire substation for the Vernon Fire Protection Dist.

It seems that every community has its share of NIMBYs, but those residents in Lincolnshire who are opposing the substation may be cutting their own throats.

Village trustees are scheduled to vote on the proposed 5,400 square foot facility at its next meeting Feb. 12. The $600,000 station will be located at the southeast corner of Rte. 22 and Riverwoods Rd., one of the busiest in town.

The 237 people who signed a petition opposing the project say they don't want to hear the wail of sirens all day long, when in fact the department only averages 3 and a half calls per day.

Other complaints include decreasing property values and the safety of children in the vicinity of the proposed location.

The fire district has responded by giving the substation a residential design to eliminate the matter of decreasing property values.

The baffling concern is the one of safety. How can a new fire station be the cause of safety concerns? The new substation is expected to reduce response time by three minutes and will provide an easier access to arteries north and south of Riverwoods Rd.

The fire district presently serves 150,000 people, 51 percent of them east of the Des Plaines River. While the main station for the Vernon Fire Protection Dist. is located on Milwaukee Ave., the new substation would be in a central location. Right now, if Rte. 22 is blocked for some reason, firemen are forced to take a long detour on Rte. 60 or Deerfield Rd. Fire officials feel a new substation will reduce the risk of a delay in life-or-death situations.

It appears the positives far outweigh the negatives on the new fire station proposal. Although the safety of children is a legitimate concern, an average of three calls per day will not create major traffic congestion and safety problems for that section of town.

The primary purpose behind the proposal is to increase safety, not to create a safety hazard. Perhaps the objectives behind the proposal have been twisted by concerns such as decreasing property values and the wail of sirens all day long.

Residents should take another look at this project and try to put their priorities in perspective.

Compost competition

Writing to the editor last week, Village Trustee Ralph Rohling of Mundelein left little doubt that local government getting into the compost business is an expensive competitor for private enterprise. In Rohling's scenario, Mundelein, part of Libertyville Twp., Green Oaks, Gurnee and Warren Twp. are going to get much the better deal by going with a private firm than will Deerfield, Libertyville, Vernon Hills and Lincolnshire which are throwing in their lot with the county's compost program being set up at Lakewood Forest Preserve, Wauconda.

Does this mean that the county shouldn't try? Not necessarily. Certainly, the county rightfully is providing leadership in implementing a service needed to comply with a new state law July 1. In addition, the county program will serve as a yardstick by which private yard waste gathering firms can be measured. By getting into the compost business, the county also will serve as an impetus to private business. What private company can't outshine government on the same task?

We suspect other units of local government, particularly villages, will be testing the composting waters as the deadline draws near. At this point, the more the merrier. We thrive in a competitive environment so the Lakewood project will have to stand on its own.

Some years ago, when the purchase of Brae Loch Golf Course by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. was being debated there was a hue and cry that the county shouldn't be in the golf course business. Brae Loch and Countryside Golf Course, another forest district layout, have proved to be successful ventures and highly profitable. Severe critics of the golf course purchase at that time today are among the most ardent supporters of golf course operation by the county.

Now is not the time to put a chill on efforts of county government to test the composting waters. We don't want county officials to get gun shy about competing with private enterprise, not when the time is nearing for County Board members to consider getting into the incineration business to deal with growing solid waste disposal problem. We hope county officials will be as eager to get into the incineration business as they are the composting business.

Village growth pains

Growth is changing Lake Zurich. It's happening fast. In 1950 this quiet, Alpine theme community alongside Rte. 12 had a population of 850. Lake County's fastest growing village quickly grew to 3,485 residents in 1960, more than doubled to 8,225 in 1980 and almost doubled again to 13,470 in 1988. The 1990 estimate is 14,500 and growing.

All of this has not been without problems, many of them within the past year.

A new mayor, James Kay, came to office last spring on a "kinder and gentler" theme. Riding into office with him was a new-look village board that was equally dedicated.

Then came the day of reckoning. State sanctions and a fine were imposed for an inadequate sewerage treatment plant. Building curbs against new subdivisions were imposed, but later lifted.

A lawsuit by Kildeer for upstream pollution from Lake Zurich of a waterway was settled.

The honeymoon with the village board quickly ended. Trustees now exchange charges of political payoffs and favoritism.

Faces changed in village hall as the mayor sought to install his own team. Today there is a new village attorney, prosecuting attorney, building commissioner and, shortly, a new village administrator.

Administrator Edward Geick, among other discretions, is accused of inflating figures for connecting to the new county water system from Lake Michigan. The mayor said the administrator of three years inflated figures to favor wells and local water control. This supposedly was one of the reasons for defeat of a referendum on the subject last spring.

Kay compares himself to the president of the U.S. When a new chief executive enters the White House he picks a new administration, the mayor said. Kay regrets not doing so earlier. There are rumors of impending departures by other employees.

Call it change, growth, maturity, or, even, politics, Lake Zurich has had it all in the past year. Lake Zurich isn't alone in experiencing this. Unfortunately, villages do not learn the lessons of another in this regard.

Kay is a sincere, dedicated man who tried for years to gain Lake Zurich's top elective office. He always saw the Alpine village as somewhat like Camelot. Since that didn't quite happen in the past year, he has three more in which to try.

Depke seeking to change political air

by BILL SCHROEDER
Lakeland Newspaper

If he's successful winning a County Board nomination March 20 and goes on to victory in November, Bob Depke will be part of a vanishing breed of local politicians. He knows how to bristle and growl and he's not afraid to let anyone know he's hot under the collar. Too many newcomers smile to your face and then stab you in the back.

Depke, dean of Lake County township supervisors and a veteran of county politics, is charging hard morning, noon and night to regain a Dist. 5 seat and return to a domain where he once was a leader and unqualified force. As a past chairman, Depke was responsible for putting in modern computer systems that are taken for granted today and hiring a good many of the staff aides who now are in department leadership roles.

The brush-browed politician from Warren Twp. had a bone to pick with Lakeland Newspapers. Instead of complaining behind the scenes, Depke got in touch with this columnist and extended a luncheon invitation. Bob came armed with marked clippings, information sheets and some well-chosen words.

"You're writing that I'm pro-development and anti-open space, I'm not pro-development and I'm not against open space," he opened. "I'm for economic development. If you bring jobs to Lake County, people have to have some place to live. We've got a great county. A lot of people want to live here. I've voted for some open space acquisitions and I've voted against some. I like to look at the individual merit of a space purchase. Each one has to stand on its own merit. I don't believe in going out and buying vacant land for the sake of land---the way the present board is doing."

Depke has been around long enough to have an opinion on just about every topic, an informed opinion. He knows where the skeletons are and he possesses keen instincts to go along with his rare insights.

Depke offered that the forced take policies of the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist. in connection with land acquisition have merely vaulted municipalities into the defensive position of aggressive annexation. "There's not enough money in this county to stop growth," he asserted defiantly, alluding to oft-heard charges that Forest Preserve land purchases have been fueled by a stop-growth mentality.

The career politician is keen about getting back on the County Board to provide leadership for reorganization that will be a by-product of redistricting with the 1990 census. Depke is for downsizing (19 single member districts) and against at-large election of the chairman ("You'd never get a chairman out once elected. Can you imagine what would happen if a Democrat would slip in?").

Besides supporting projects to aid senior citizens, youth and the fight against drugs, his three favorite issues, Depke said if he's reelected he'll push for siting an incinerator to deal with the county's solid waste disposal needs that will reach crisis proportions in five years. Asked about a good spot to locate an incinerator, Depke laughed, "Probably somewhere in Newport Twp. near the Wisconsin line. That's about as far away as we could get." In a serious vein, the candidate mentioned that logically an incinerator would best be located in an industrial area "probably in Waukegan or North Chicago" where the by-products could be readily utilized. Depke has been a champion of incineration since inspecting an incinerator more than 10 years ago during a Florida vacation.

With his upfront style and direct approach to issues ("The county paid a bundle for the Weber Duck Farm Forest Preserve and bought into a $300,000 clean up bill for duck droppings"), voters seldom waffle on Bob Depke. He's either revered or disliked immensely. The pragmatic politician's main concern is having more of the former and less of the latter on election day.

In a political forum where whimps and housewife hobbyists continue to outnumber pros and standup guys, Bob Depke comes on like a thunderstorm. The next few weeks he'll be doing his utmost to convince voters in Dist. 5's Warren, Libertyville, and Vernon Twps. that a change of weather in county government is exactly what's needed.

More communist deception?

Editor:

Astonishing changes are taking place in communist Europe. Controls are relaxed, huge demonstrations permitted, the Berlin wall opened, some communist governments now calling themselves "Socialist," etc. One after another, the communist dictators are making a big show of resigning or being "kicked out." One has now been shot only to be replaced by another. The question is: What's the catch?

Take Poland for example. The President is communist Gen. Jaruzelski, who may appoint or fire the Prime Minister, declare martial law, dissolve parliament. He is absolute boss. The Minister of the Interior is communist Gen. Kiszcak, head of the Polish KGB. The Minister of Defense is communist Gen. Siwicki, who bosses the communist Army. The Ministers of Transportation and of Foreign Trade are both communists. The local governments and the courts are under communist control.

What do you think? Will giving aid to the communist dictators strengthen their stranglehold on their victims or will it make the Polish people freer?

The catch is that the real dictators still have their police, secret police, and army; (Continued on next page)

Politically Speaking

by JOSEPH SOULAK
Lakeland Newspapers

Things have hit the fan in Lake Zurich. Since the new administration took office in April, Village Administrator Ed Geick has resigned (or been fired, depending upon what you want to believe), the village attorney, village prosecutor and building inspector forced out of jobs, the village consulting engineer canned, criticism leveled at the new fire chief for enforcing the rules and political corruption charges exchanged.

All of this happened despite Mayor James Kay's "kinder and gentler" election campaign theme. Kay swept into office last April following a decade of "boom or bust" growth that almost burst the Alpine village at the sewer and water seams.

Political payoff charges are being exchanged over rezoning of land at the busy intersection at Rtes. 12-22 for a gas station with convenience store.

"As for the downtown rezoning to provide for a one-way street along the E.J. & E. railroad tracks now being pushed," Trustee Milton Faurot further charges, "that will be real lucrative for a Lake County Board member who just happened to buy up a large slug of property the state will have to buy at an inflated price if the one-way state route is built...." County Board member Bruce Hansen of Lake Zurich and Kay are bosom buddies.

Commenting on the retiring, firing or dismissal of so many village employees, Farout says these are "vendetta-type actions to get even with village employees who enforce village policies that aren't popular in the Kay Henchman political arena."

And so it goes in the world of Kay's Camelot and Farout's Inferno.

Surprise! Libertyville's F.T. "Mike" Graham is looking for a job. The former Libertyville Twp. supervisor and current Dist. 5 County Board member will soon be totally unemployed. He is not seeking re-election.

Who should he ask for a job? None other than Libertyville Mayor JoAnn Eckmann. He wants to fill an opening on the Plan Commission. "I realize my appointment would generate some controversy," Graham told the mayor.

Graham believes himself as qualified as anyone else. He also believes the commission needs some new thinking. Politics aside, Graham said there are few others as knowledgeable about planning.

He also promises lively meetings. That's because Jack Martin (a political adversary) is also a member of the commission—a rather vocal one, too.

The mayor hasn't promised Graham anything. She does, however, have someone else in mind for the five-year vacancy that occurred with the resignation of another commissioner.

The Lake County-Waukegan Chamber of Commerce is a democratic organization. It was in January when the monthly noon luncheon meeting had Democratic gubernatorial candidate Neal Hartigan as guest speaker.

To show that the club is democratic when it comes to Republicans, GOP governor hopeful Jim Edgar will get equal time. That will be at noon on Wednesday, Feb. 28, at the Gurnee Holiday Inn.

Steven Baer isn't exactly a household name in Illinois. But it is among state Republican precinct committeemen.

You see, the conservative activist from Chicago wants to be the next governor.

Toward that goal he sent color, 10-minute video tapes to all Republican precinct committeemen in the state. Three quarters of it is devoted to the man he has to beat—Sect. of State Jim Edgar. As a matter of fact, it opens with a shot of Edgar.

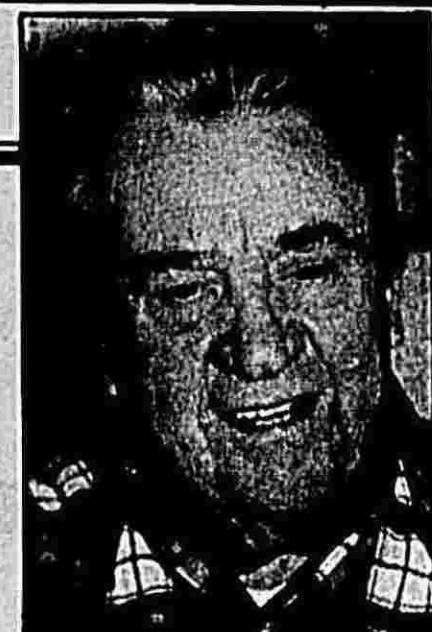

The tape then goes on to attack Edgar's dismal record on taxes and implies he will increase them once in office. The GOP faces a "1990 debacle" because of Edgar's support of abortion rights and extension of last year's temporary income tax increase, Baer says.

This is enough to make committeemen stop and think. Which is exactly what the anti-tax, anti-abortion candidate wants.

Those who write off Baer say his candidacy might cost Edgar some time and money, but not the gubernatorial nomination.

OVERHEARD: It was standing room only at a Feb. 2 bash for Sheriff Clinton Grinnell at Mer's Restaurant in Wauconda sponsored by the Wauconda Twp. Republican Club.

By contrast, an intimate program for County Board Dist. 5 campaign workers of Robert Depke and Pam Newton at the Meadows 21 restaurant in Libertyville drew a smaller, loyal crowd. That's the way it was intended. Hosting the shindig was new Libertyville Twp. Sup. Ralph Swank. Robert Depke, the Warren Twp. supervisor running for the County Board this spring, says he is not interested in Lake County Republican Party Chairman Bob Neal's job, speculation to the contrary. But his son, Shawn, might be. Shawn Depke is Warren Twp. Republican Party chairman. With a few more years, time and a little more maturity dad concedes No. 1 son will make a good chairman. No one seems to want the soon-to-be-vacated Libertyville Fire Dept. headquarters at 200 E. Cook St. It has been rejected for use as a civic center and by the adjoining Cook Memorial Library. Republican Precinct Committeeman Larry Alkire has a better idea. With its four bays and high ceilings he said it would make an ideal Jiffy Lube. Alkire, who has lots of connections in the automotive business, predicts love at first sight by those who work downtown or own property there.

Retired County Board member and Fremont Twp. Sup. George Bell may someday learn vacations aren't for him.

Several years ago he went on a business trip to North Carolina. Wanting to get in a final round of golf before returning home, George had the limousine stop at one of the state's most famous golf courses. On the 18th hole he got hit in the eye with a ball. Bell lost the sight in his left eye.

Six years ago he and his wife were vacationing with their daughter in Michigan. That's when George had the first sign of a heart attack. He returned to Libertyville and went to Milwaukee St. Luke's for triple bypass surgery.

Late last month the Bells decided on a Caribbean cruise. They flew to Puerto Rico for a week of sailing beneath the tropical skies. The third day out George got sick. He was put to bed in the ship's infirmary. Next day the doctor advised seeing his doctor in Libertyville. The Bells flew back and George spent part of last week at Condell. Luckily, for George, it wasn't as serious as the other two—just a bleeding ulcer.

"Until my heart attack I was never sick a day in my life," Bell said. "This time the doctor said I should easily live another six or seven years," said Bell, who is now 77.

in other words, all the guns. As Mao Tse-Tung of China pointed out, power comes out of the barrel of a gun; having all the guns, they have all the power. It matters not if tens of thousands gather and demonstrate, ruthless dictators with total power can crush them at will. Remember Tiananmen Square! They can clamp down on their unfortunate subjects any time they please.

I have a letter from Senator Paul Simon defending his decision to "invest" some taxpayers' money in Poland. Even if he wants to give some of his own money to the communist, I object, because it is morally wrong to give any aid whatsoever to those tyrants. When he gives them taxpayers' money, it's an outrage. The money Senator Simon is giving to the communist will be added to our national debt, and our grandchildren will not be able to pay it off during their lifetimes. It's criminal, and we should make certain that Senator Simon realizes we don't like it one little bit.

Parents—be responsible!

Editor:

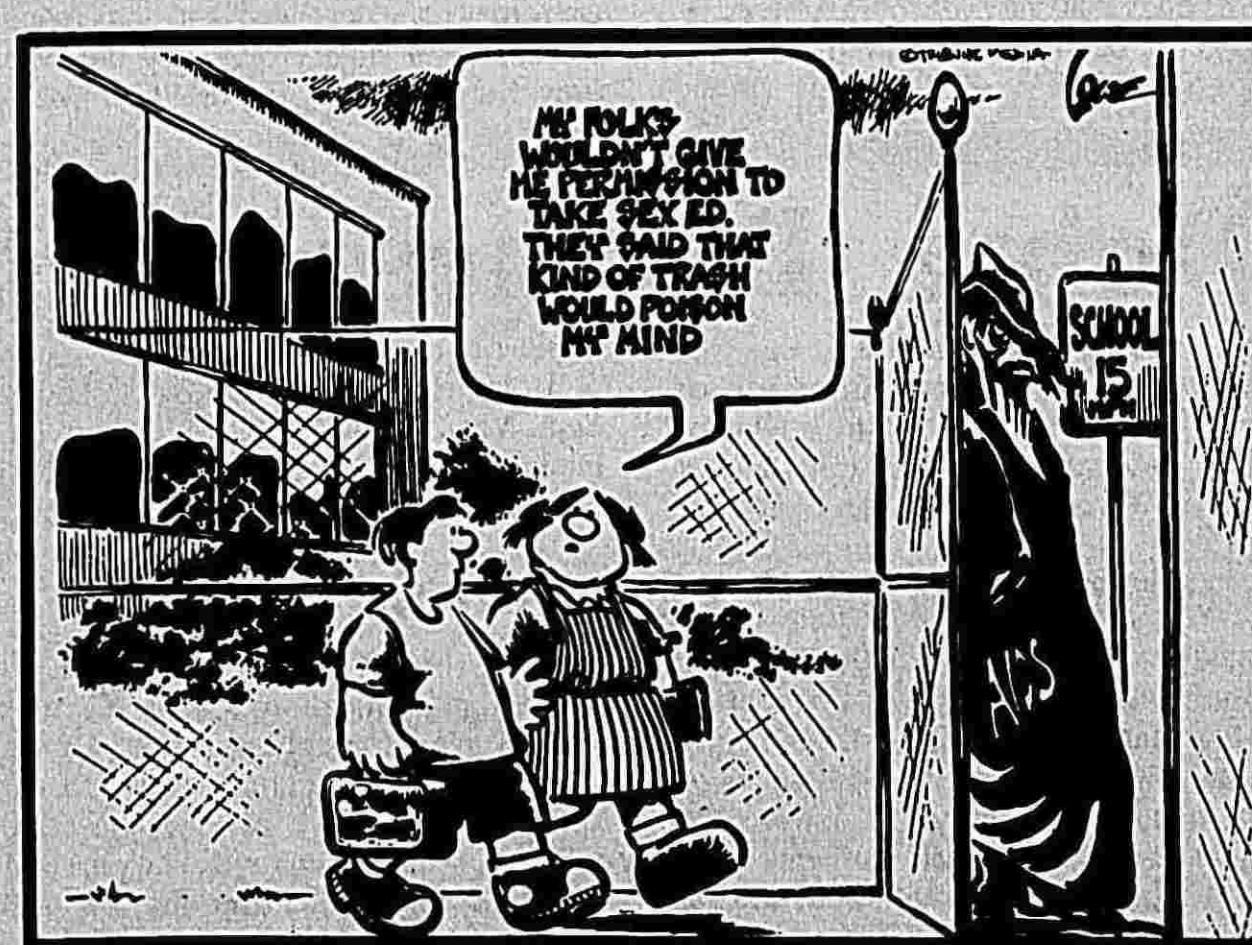

The problem of schools turning out

"poor" students and the problem of schools trying to finance various mandated programs can both be solved with one simple solution. If you're going to bring children into this world then take the responsibilities that go along with it and stay at home with them.

There are a few exceptions, of course, such as low, and I mean low, family incomes, not $30,000 or $40,000 incomes or in the case of single parents who, of course became single parents after the fact. Children today are viewed as commodities by their parents, not as lives to be cherished and guided and loved. If parents would put their desires for the material behind them for a few years and not turn all responsibility over to daycare or forms thereof, and then expect the school to play surrogate parents for the next 13 years, both problems would certainly be on the decline.

Let's blame the responsible parties instead of the babysitter, daycare operator, teachers and the entire public school system.

I cite the example of sex education. Schools do, and have to, teach this course, but who is indeed teaching these young people about love and relationships and commitment that are a most important fact in the learning of sex?

Super Super Mom has Super Super 'attitude problem'

Editor's Note: The following article is the third segment of a four-part series entitled Is Super Mom Still Flying High? The series, which will conclude next week, is based on working mothers in today's society.

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Being a Super Super Mom in the 1990s seems to be more of an attitude than a state of being.

Not only is she wearing the three hats of a mother, an employed professional, and a wife, the energetic female we are talking about this week has added community service and/or a little local politics to her busy agenda.

Andrea Moore of Libertyville has been on the Super Super Mom express for more than five years.

She is a very attractive and young 45 years of age, has been married to Bill Moore for 26 years and has three boys, ranging in age from 17 to 23.

Andrea was a full-time wife and mother, who was also involved in her community to the extent of serving as a trustee on the Libertyville Village Board, until her baby celebrated his 12th birthday.

That's when she decided to split the time she spent outside of the Moore household between working part-time in her husband's business, the Moore Creative Group, and taking on a bigger political job, that of serving on the Lake County Board.

Besides these slightly time consuming involvements, Andrea is also on the boards of Condell Memorial Hospital and the David Adler Cultural Center.

"Don't get all this wrong," she says, "I decided a long time ago that the Super Mom who does everything perfectly is a myth. You have to have help and priorities and do what you can because there's never really enough time, especially for recreation breaks with the family."

How have all these activities affected Andrea's health?

"I'm extremely healthy, although I'm always fighting an extra 10 pounds," says Moore.

She adds that she tries to walk everyday and get to bed by 10:30 p.m. to keep herself going at full speed.

"I don't think I'm as tired as I was when I was home with the children on a full time basis," says Andrea. "I guess I was more fussy then and I had only part-time help because my husband has always worked long hours with his own business."

Moore adds that she and her husband have always spent a lot of time attending the athletic events her sons were and are involved in in high school and college.

Despite the fact that Andrea makes a New Year's resolution every year to find more time to have fun, she continues to spend about four hours a week at the advertising agency, working with the financial end, and approximately nine to 12 hours plus at the county building, attending board and different committee meetings.

Once a month she spends almost an entire day in Chicago at a meeting of a water quality committee she also sits on.

Wearing a lot of different hats sits well with Andrea because "everybody, my husband and my children, as well as myself, has learned to make adjustments. Some of them were hard at first, but it's working."

"After the board meeting you have three appointments, one is with a man who has been calling for three weeks. He says he's your husband."

often are forced to leave them to their own devices, to their children's detriment.

When they have problems, they are the big ones, drugs, sex, emotional and sometimes criminal.

The strain of dealing with these, many times as a single parent, can be devastating, often reaching far into Super Super Mom's job consciousness, invading every part of her life.

Do working mothers have to suffer healthwise because women are now experiencing stress from all sides and often ignoring their health because of lack of time and too much else on their minds?

woman must resolve or continue to struggle with are actually rooted deep in the spoken and unspoken expectations both she and her husband hold about marriage, parenting, family life and career.

Most marriages of the 1950s, even though the female half has always worked or has reentered the job market, have been based on lopsided homemaking responsibility standards.

Statistics saying that women often work more than 75 hours a week away from and at home, while men work as many hours as their jobs take and do little of the inside household chores, are largely based on marriages of this era.

A big change of attitude seems to be taking place in younger relationships, when we're talking living together in or out of wedlock.

Psychologists say that male members of today's young adult generation are often products of working mothers, so they are used to being responsible for household chores.

That's why many younger men fall easily into the practice of splitting things like cooking, the laundry, child-care and housecleaning, thus building a more give and take relationship.

Psychologists and health-care experts claim that Super Super Moms can continue to operate only if they do not have goals and standards that are too high and unrealistic, whether they are for themselves or those around them.

Here is another 1990s situation where "just saying no" can be the byword, not only to sanity, healthy bodies and minds, but also to happy relationships and success at jobs, in and away from the home.

Of course Super Super Mom might have to be willing to fudge a little now and then.

Is Super Mom still flying high?

Unlike Andrea, many of these "executive" Super Super Moms, not humanly able to cope with all the demands on their time, are suffering in the marriage department, with one out of every three marriages failing.

When that happens, Super Exec has one less stress pull to contend with.

But she sometimes loses that one only to gain the full load of parenting on a 99.9 percent basis.

At her age, ranging from the late 30s to the middle 50s, the children on her mind are usually teenage plus, and though they are somewhat independent and don't require the hands-on supervision they did when they were younger, Super Super Moms

According to the Center for Women's Health Care in Crystal Lake, a woman's continuing daily health is more dependent on her attitude and sense of well being than on anything else.

"The practical and emotional support she receives from her husband and others is a critical factor in whether she adjusts, either to the decision to re-enter the job field, or to stay at home and make her home and family No. 1.

This decision itself is often deceptively portrayed simply as one of time: the woman choosing between the time spent on professional pursuits and her family.

But, according to the health center representative, the most critical issues a

County clerk reminds voters to re-register for election

"It's time to remind everyone of the closing date for voter registration before the March General Primary Election," announced County Clerk Linda Hess. "The last date to register is Feb. 20. In March we'll be voting for the candidates to run in the November General Election—candidates for governor, U.S. senator, county board members, precinct committeemen, as well as other countywide and statewide offices."

"It seems when people move they just don't think about re-registering with their new address until it's too late. We never want to turn away voters on election day, but if folks haven't re-registered when they have moved or changed their names, we have no choices," Hess explained.

"So once again we would like to remind you to check your voter registration card. If you've changed your address or your name, please be sure to re-register by Feb. 20. If you aren't sure if you need to re-register, call us at (708)360-6628 and we'll check your registration for you."

"We have many convenient places throughout Lake County for voter registration—most libraries, township offices and schools offer voter registration, as well as many civic organizations. You can call us for the location closest to you. We don't want you to be disappointed on Election Day," added Linda Hess.

Film Review

"Driving Miss Daisy" was a smash hit on every stage it played on and now the movie version is expected to dominate the Academy Awards ceremonies just as "Daisy" did at the Tony Awards.

In the title role, one of the first ladies of the theatre and the silver screen, Jessica Tandy, adds just one more laurel to her already overladen thespian's garland.

The performance of Morgan Freeman as the guy that does the driving has the same high emotional quality as Tandy's.

This touching and sensitive comedy about a southern chauffeur and his long-time relationship with his best female passenger is one of the top good-for-the-entire-family pictures to come around in a long time.

We are not denying a few slow minutes here and there, let's still give it five out of five stars, a must see for everybody. This one's a classic!!

Be there

This year, Valentine's day falls smack dab in the middle of the week on Wednesday.

This will not be a bad deal for area restaurants and those who want to celebrate that lovers' holiday, since Wednesday is only second to the weekend as an evening that people like to "go out."

What play would seem to have more of a Valentine's theme than "The Last of the Red Hot Lovers," now playing at Andre's Dinner theatre in Richmond.

For those who love to do-si-do, the Grayslake Park Dist. is sponsoring a big Valentine's Square Dance, at the park district building on Seymour St., starting at 7:30 p.m., this Saturday.

On the list of Valentine's specials at Dino's Den in Fox Lake is baked scrod de Jonghe.

The Colony House in Trevor will be featuring a Valentine special with Beef Wellington and surf and turf topping the menu.

Andres on the Bay in Fox Lake is featuring a special dinner for two for just $34.95. Dinner includes relish tray, shrimp cocktail, soup or salad, rack of lamb or baron of beef, broccoli. There's chocolate mousse for desert and a complimentary glass of wine for an extra added attraction.

The Holiday Inn in Gurnee is offering a Valentine's weekend get-a-way on Feb. 9 and 10, for just $85 for two days and one night. This includes a king size room with a bottle of champagne, use of pool and whirlpool until midnight, dinner for two at Zackery's, or dinner for two in the room.

At Dante's, just outside of Antioch, the "cheek to cheek special" features two butt steaks, a 16 ounce lobster and a bottle of champagne for just $37.95.

For Romantics Only, the Chicagoland Marriott Hotels and Resorts will offer guests, on Feb. 9-11 and 16-18, an ultra-romantic interlude for just $89 per evening. Chilled champagne served in deluxe accommodations and breakfast for two the next morning are on Marriott's agenda.

Whatever you do and wherever you go, don't forget to remember that special someone by going just a bit out of your way. They deserve it!

'My Pretty Valentine'

Celebrate Valentine's Day with family and/or friends in a big way by making an extra special effort when setting the table. With pink and red becoming synonymous with Cupid's day, add just a touch in a centerpiece of pink roses and baby's breath and use the best linens, crystal, silver and china (rose pattern china tops table off). Get fancy with the napkins, add another hint of pink in the candles, and the table will be as pretty as any Valentine. Table from Westosha BPW's annual tablesetting. — Photo by Gloria Davis.

Felder to conduct symphony

The Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and Chorus will appear together under the direction of guest conductor Harvey Felder, assistant conductor of the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra on Sunday, Feb. 18 at 3 p.m. at Waukegan West High School, 2325 Brookside Ave. Felder is the second of five guest conductors in the 1989-90 Symphony Season.

Felder has chosen for his program "Dvorak's Symphony No. 8 in G Major," "Brahm's Nanie for Chorus and Orchestra" and Beethoven's "Choral Fantasy." Pianist Karin Edwards will also perform with the orchestra and chorus.

"The orchestra is in a very challenging season," stated Lynn Shumaker, symphony business manager. "Each guest conductor has chosen very demanding programs to showcase their talent as well as different sections in the orchestra. The orchestra members have been working very hard and are learning a lot."

Maestro Felder is now in his second season as the affiliate artist conductor of the Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra. He is also the music director and conductor of the Johns Hopkins Symphony in Baltimore, Maryland.

He has served on the faculties of Haverford College, Bryn Mawr College and Eastern Michigan University. His past music director posts have included the Ann Arbor Summer Symphony and the Livonia Youth Symphony.

Felder has guest conducted the Concerto Soloist of Philadelphia, the Spokane Symphony, the Redland Symphony (California) and has appeared with the Richmond Symphony (Virginia) and the Akron Symphony (Ohio).

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Madison and the University of Michigan, Felder's conducting studies have included work at the Tanglewood Music Center with Seiji Ozawa and Ghennadi Roszdestvensky. He has also studied with Otto-Werner Mueller, Lukas Foss, Max Rudolf, David Zinman, and Gunther Schuller.

Tickets for the Feb. 18 performance are $10 for adults and $5 for students, senior citizens and military personnel. They can be purchased at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts in Bowen Park, Waukegan, or can be charged to Visa or MasterCard by calling (708)360-4742.

This concert is sponsored in part by American International Hospital. The Waukegan Symphony Orchestra and Chorus are sponsored by the Waukegan Park Dist. Programs are partially supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, a state agency, the National Endowment for the Arts, the City of Waukegan, and the Lake County Arts Council.

Adler plans Bit O'Irish

The David Adler Cultural Center will present the Iris music duo, Shanua (pronounced: shah-new-ah) in concert at 8 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 10 at the Cultural Center, 1700 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

Shanua consists of two versatile musicians, with a wide variety of influences coming to bear on the material and arrangements they perform.

Dermot Somerville, a native Dubliner, brings a rich and varied experience to his extensive repertoire of songs, along with accomplished accompaniments and solos on guitar, bouzouki, bodhran and bones.

Ulle Laido's background in classical and especially early music, along with her unquestionable mastery of the electronic sampling keyboard, give new life to the traditional music the group performs. Their sound is at once timeless and innovative.

Admission to the concert is $6 for adults, $5 for center members.

Mom Likes To Cook

By Randee Rian

There's nothing new about serving a heart-shaped cake for a special Valentine. But for those who don't have a heart-shaped pan, here's a simple way to come up with the same end result.

HEART O'CHERRIES

First get out a nine-inch round pan and a nine-inch square baking pan.

Pour a favorite cake batter into pans and bake according to directions. Either chocolate or white cake go well with the cherry topping we have in mind.

Cool the cakes and carefully remove from pans. Place the square cake diamond-fashion on a large serving platter. Cut the round layer in half. Place each round half with cut side next to square side. (You may have to trim the corners). This creates a large heart.

Use imagination to decorate. White frosting is a favorite with a border at the top edge. Fill with cherry pie filling. This can be double-layered by using two square and two round cakes and filling the center, with instant vanilla pudding.

Underline with lacy doilies and serve also use for a centerpiece.

Heart-shaped cupcakes are also easy to make using a favorite recipe. Place a marble or a small piece of foil in the side of each cup between paper liner and pan. This makes the heart-shaped mold. Don't fill cups too full of batter or the heart-shape will be ruined. Decorate with pink, white or red frosting and candy hearts.

VALENTINE'S BAG

These plump, fat Valentine bags are ideal as a container for a special Valentine's present, Valentines candies, a carrier for school Valentine cards or, made smaller, for party favors.

Simple to make: start with a brown paper lunch bag. Fold the top-half of the bag inside. With staples, attach one piece of tissue (Pink, red and/or white) paper to the inside of each side of each bag.

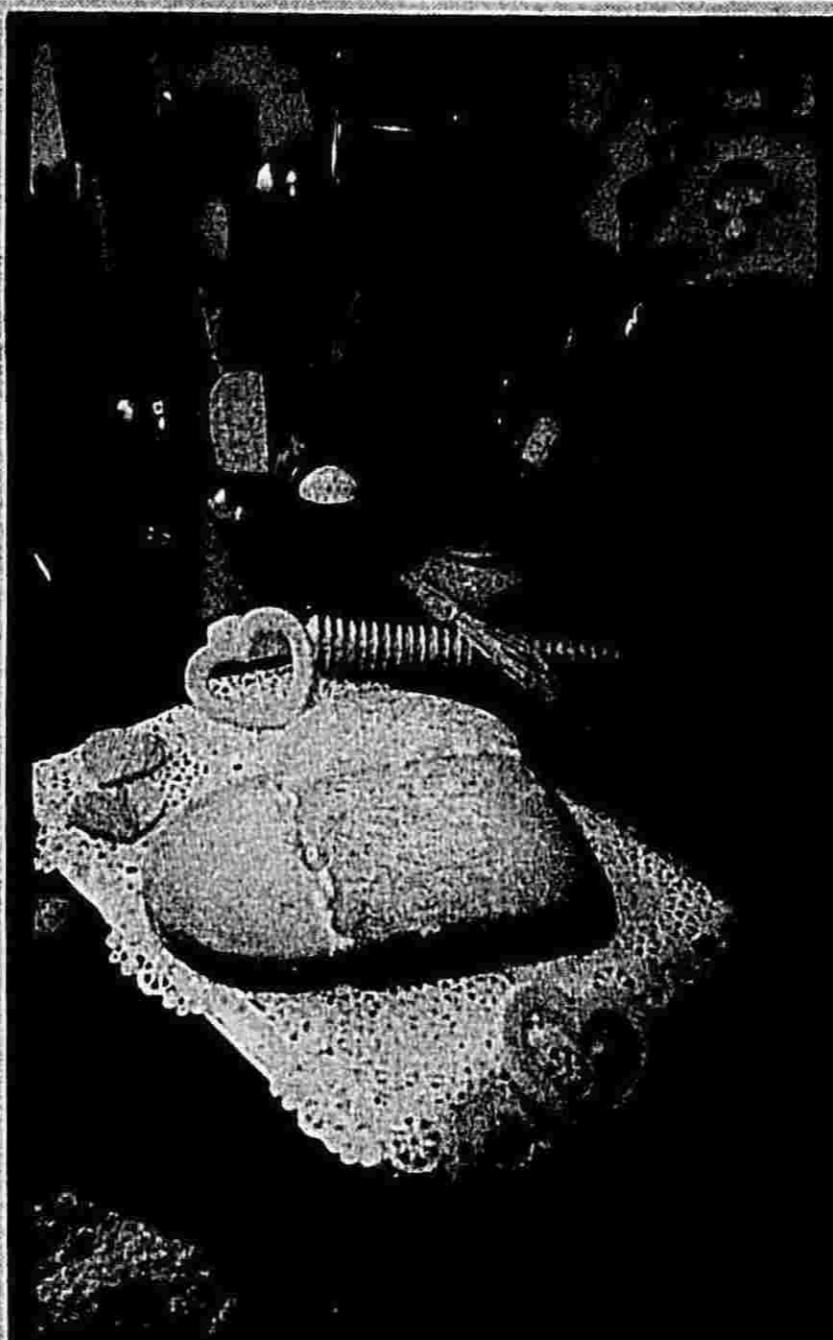

Fill with goodies, then gather tissue at the top and tie with bright ribbon. To finish, cut out hearts from shades of pink or red construction paper, glueing onto tissue. These should get lots of oohs and aahs, mine did!

JELLO HEART SALAD

Make cherry or strawberry jello according to the directions on the box. Pour into square cake pans and add sliced canned pears or peaches, drained. Refrigerate.

When jello is stiff, use heart-shaped cookie cutter to cut six jello hearts from one pan. (determine how much jello to make by that number). Remove carefully with spatula. Place on individual beds of crispy lettuce and top with daub of creamy dressing made out of half sour cream and half mayonnaise with a pinch of sugar. Put maraschino cherry in center of dressing daub.

Left over jello can be cut into small cubes and layered into parfait glasses with whipped topping and refrigerated for tomorrow's dessert.

Have a heart (cake that is)

The use of a round and a square cake pan can result in making a heart-shaped cake for Valentine's Day without special heart-shaped pan.

Top with frosting and cherry pie filling and voilà! A perfect Valentine's dessert. See directions in 'Mom Loves to Cook.'

Make a wearable Valentine gift

The kids and even mom can make themselves a special hand-painted Valentine sweatshirt.

Use plain white sweatshirt, preferably 50 percent cotton and 50 percent polyester. An acetate content will cause shirt to pill.

Buy pink, red and purple textile paint (water based).

Buy inexpensive sponges and using heart-shaped cookie cutter as stencil, cut sponges into hearts.

Put small amounts of paint in aluminum foil pie plate and dip sponge in paint until bottom surface is covered.

Place heart stamps helter skelter all over shirt, using different colors. (Wash sponges between colors.)

Use gold and/or silver glitter paint to add to decorations. Have friends sign autographs above and below hearts with a Slick Paint Pen, available in most variety stores.

Place shirt, folding sides and sleeves back, on clean cookie pan and bake in oven at 250 degrees for three minutes.

Mysterious Malta

by JIM WARNEK, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

When I first wrote about Malta a couple of years ago, few Americans had heard about this ancient nation. Well, thanks to President Bush's recent meeting with the leader of the USSR, held onboard ship off the coast of Malta, the press has brought this island country to the eyes of the world.

Malta is located about 60 miles south of Sicily and is comprised of three islands: Malta, Gozo and tiny Comino.

While Malta's mild winters, sunny skies and blue waters have made it a popular vacation spot for many Europeans, it remains virtually unknown to most Americans.

It is not her beaches, however, for which I would recommend a visit to Malta. The Caribbean is much closer and offers more in that respect. It is the mystery of Malta that attracted me.

Take for example the unexplained "cart tracks" found throughout the island. Parallel grooves cut in Malta's stony surface thousands of years ago, sometimes leading into the sea, are still a mystery to this day.

You might want to tour the miles of underground catacombs. For 35 cents I was able to enter, through a gentleman's basement, a section he discovered while digging a cistern!

You can visit the oldest temples known to man, dating back to 5,000 years B.C.

Most of the "newer" state buildings on the island were built by the Knights of the Order of St. John during the 15th century.

Oh yes, this is where Bogart's Maltese falcon and the Maltese cross, popular with bikers, came from.

If you are planning a trip to Europe, try and include a couple of days in Malta.

The American dream

Ken Keene and his wife, Jan, are living the American dream by running their own business in Keene's Kountry Market in Fox Lake. Keene, a former meatcutter for Dominick's in Buffalo Grove, has brought back that 'cozy, old-time country feeling' to the Chain O'Lakes area with his new market. —Photos by Sherry Doyle

Keenes living the American dream

by MIKE PRAMSHAFER
Lakeland Newspapers

Although he's only been in business for a couple of months, Ken Keene feels good about his new establishment in Fox Lake.

Keene's Kountry Market, located at 3 Nippersink Blvd., brings back that "cozy, old-time country feeling," as he puts it.

Offering a full line of quality meats, cheeses and salads, Keene's Kountry Market is an American dream come true for Ken and his wife, Jan.

A former meatcutter for Dominick's in Buffalo Grove, Keene decided to open his own business because "it was the sign of the times."

"A lot of the major grocery stores are doing away with the skilled meatcutters and going to centralized packers. After 14 years at Dominick's, I thought it was time for me to try it on my own. Besides, I've always wanted to be my own boss," said Ken.

He and Jan like being on their own. "It gives us a chance to work together and build something we can be proud of," Ken said of his "unique" store.

The market has a wide variety of sausages and freshly cut meats, including pork, chicken and poultry. The salads are all homemade and the store's wide selection of cheeses make the deli counter a complete one.

Fresh sandwiches for lunch and/or dinner, along with a choice of delectable salads, make for a delicious meal. Roy's Best Ever Chili is also available at Keene's Kountry Market.

"Part of the uniqueness comes from our country atmosphere," said Ken. The facility is equipped with wooden floors with saw dust, pickle barrels, and old-fashioned ceiling fans.

Keene's Kountry Market also offers a unique delivery service with a $10 minimum purchase. For purchases $20 or more, delivery would be free. Otherwise, delivery costs $2.

Although the first couple of months haven't been the best in terms of revenue gained, the Keenes "are hanging in there."

"We expect business to pick up during the summer months. Anytime you open a new business, it always takes a little time to build a client list. We just have to be patient," asserts Ken.

As far as the future is concerned, Ken said he would like to open up a "floating general store" on the Chain Of Lakes, where his deli goods could be available to boaters.

"I think that would really be a unique idea. I envision a floating deli on a pontoon boat, complete with music and beverages," he said.

Keene's Kountry Market is open from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Fox Lake

The Fox Lake Area Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Trade, Home & Leisure Fair '90 at Grant Community High School, 285 E. Grand Ave. in Fox Lake. The first annual event will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, March 31 and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday, April 1. Food, fun, entertainment and prizes will highlight the event, where admission will be free. For more information call Sandy at (708) 587-7474.

Island Lake

The owner of Kemper Valve Co., who has been operating an industrial plant in Island Lake at the intersection of Bonner and Darrell Rds., announced plans to add to his plant another 40 acres of land adjacent to his holdings for the purpose of enticing more industry to Island Lake. After operating Kemper Valve Co. for more than 10 years, Jackson Kemper announced at a meeting of the Island Lake village trustees that he is currently negotiating the purchase of those 40 acres to bring additional industry to the village. "As the market becomes saturated with large industrial parks there is a definite need for smaller, out-of-the-beaten-path areas for industry; if for no other reason than to avoid the heavy vehicular traffic. It's the ideal spot for small industrial firms to locate," said Island Lake Mayor Charles Amrich of the Kemper site.

Antioch

Di Marco's Restaurant, located at 883 Main St., in Antioch, will be opening the first week of March. The restaurant will be featuring a superb assortment of Italian foods including appetizers, sandwiches and pizza. Cappuccino and Espresso coffee, a fine assortment of wines and beer can also be enjoyed. Call (708) 395-8884 for further opening information.

Lake County

"The success of American International Hospital's cancer program has spawned the growth of another site and the creation of a new corporation called Cancer Care Centers of America," said Steve Weinstein, Administrator of American International Hospital in Zion. The new corporation, Cancer Care Centers of America, has signed a long-term lease with Oral Roberts Univ. for the now-vacant City of Faith Hospital in Tulsa, Okla. The former City of Faith Hospital was built as part of a $150 million medical complex. The 30-story hospital has a 777-bed capacity and it contains many unique design and construction features. It closed on Nov. 15, 1989. Cancer Care Centers of America will rename and reopen the facility as a major cancer specialty hospital beginning in mid-1990.

Lake Zurich

Re/Max Homes Northwest in Lake Zurich had real estate sales in excess of 85 million dollars in 1989; this averaged out to approximately $4 million per Realtor. Re/Max is in the First National Bank Building on Rtes. 12 and 22 and is ideally located to service the tremendous growth of Lake Zurich, Barrington, Hawthorn Woods and surrounding communities. Roberta McKay, broker/owner, stated that she is pleased with the staff and their professional achievements in making 1989 a "great" year. Re/Max Homes Northwest is just beginning its fourth year and already has a commanding position in the marketplace. Re/Max is presently staffed with 24 full time, fully dedicated realtors who have the experience and expertise to provide only the highest quality service.

Gurnee development enters second phase

January marks the beginning of construction for the second phase of Scarsdale Homes' The Pines in Gurnee, creating 153 new homes for the 1990s. The Gurnee 100 homes in phase one are scheduled to be completed by March 1990, according to Mary Gilreath, sales consultant at Scarsdale Homes.

The Pines development consists of 182 single family homes and 71 attached homes on approximately 43 acres in Gurnee. These luxurious three-and-four bedroom, semi-custom homes range in size from 1,400 to over 2,000 square feet. Homeowners can choose from 10 different designs for single-family homes and two designs for the attached homes. Prices range from $98,000 to $150,000.

High-quality standard features include a 10-inch steel reinforced foundation, wood windows and wood thermopane sliding doors, generous ceramic tile baths and basements in the single family homes. Buyers can also choose features such as oak-stained doors, designer tile, custom cabinetry, and Kohler plumbing fixtures. All attached homes have a two-car garage and include several upscale finishes such as high ceilings, skylights, and two-story entrances. Residents of the single-family homes and attached homes built in phase one say they are especially pleased with the ability to customize the homes to their specifications.

Gilreath said most of the buyers are first-time homeowners. She said more than half of the prospective buyers expressed interest in the reputable Gurnee city services, community school system and the easily accessible commutes and transportation.

To visit The Pines, take the Tri-State Tollway north to Grand Ave. (Ill. Hwy. 132). Exit Grand Ave. east to the first stoplight. Turn north on Dilley's Rd. to the entrance.

Ponderosa signs for Round Lake Beach site

Peter T. Childs, president of Childs Realty, based in Arlington Heights, has announced that A. Rick Scardino, broker associate with Childs Realty, was the sole broker in selling his listings of 1.61 acres at the northwest corner of Rollins and Cedar Lake Rds. in Round Lake Beach.

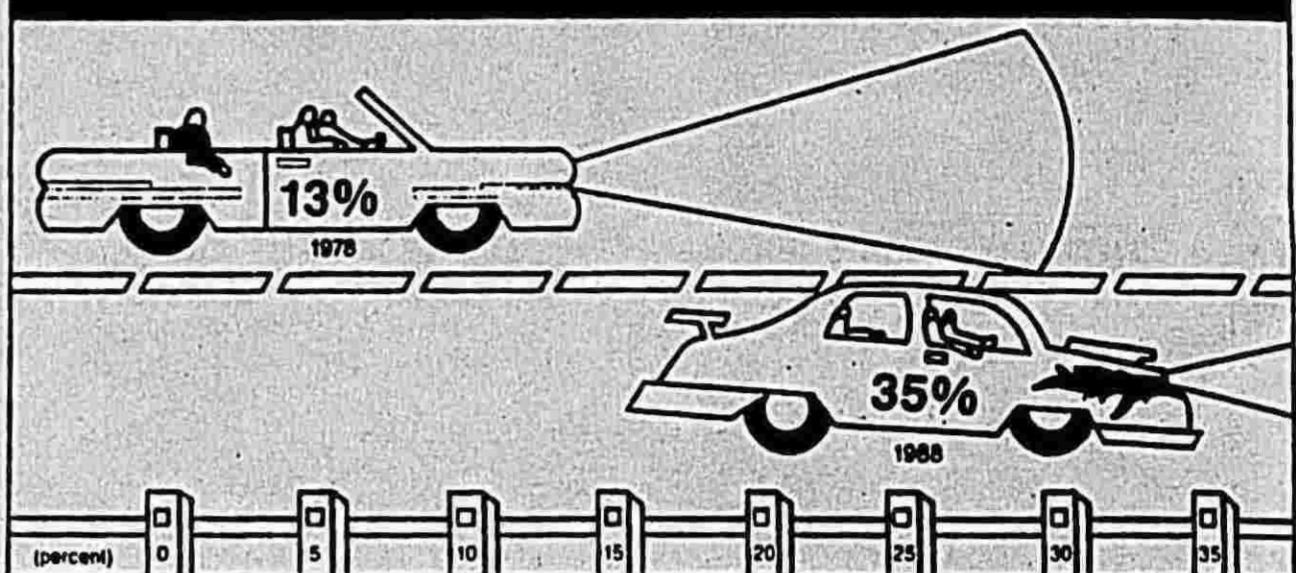

The purchasers were Ponderosa Steakhouse franchises. Plans are for a Ponderosa Steakhouse to be constructed and opened by July 1.

For further information contact The Elliott Marketing Group at (708)998-6900.

Teen Sales Rev Up

Teenagers are a growing segment of vehicle buyers. More young adults own cars. For example, the percentage of teenagers who own their own cars rose from 13 percent in 1978 to 35 percent in 1988.

1 + 3 1 2 = CHICAGO

1 + 7 0 8 = SUBURBS

Make sure you use your new math by

FEBRUARY 10.

It's the day you must dial 312 to reach Chicago from the suburbs.

For the last few months, we wanted to help you get used to 708, to try it on for size. But starting Saturday, February 10, the only way to call the suburbs from Chicago will be to dial 1 + 708 + the seven-digit number. To call Chicago from the suburbs, you'll dial 1 + 312 + the seven-digit number.

Of course, there's no need to dial 1 + 708 or 1 + 312 when calling within either area code.

The new area code won't affect your telephone rates or seven-digit phone numbers. And calls between the city and suburbs will still be billed as local calls.

So remember your numbers: 708 (suburbs) and 312 (Chicago) on February 10. For new math, it's really pretty simple.

Firm sells Gurnee land

Western Development Corp. has announced the sale of 1.2 acres of land adjacent to the 2.2 million sq. ft. super regional mall under construction, Gurnee Mills.

The sale is the first in a series of 20 peripheral land sales for parcels totalling over 150 acres surrounding Gurnee Mills.

Illinois Bell purchased the land Jan. 26 and intends to use it for construction of a switching station.

Gurnee Mills is located on the rapidly growing Interstate 94 corridor that connects Chicago with Milwaukee. The site is diagonally adjacent to Six Flag's Great America Theme Park at the intersection of I-94 and Rte. 132.

Parties interested in land sales or mall leasing can contact Western Development at 1-800-WDC-LAND or 202-965-3600.

Personnel

Kevin Glogovsky

Kevin Glogovsky of Gurnee, an agent in the Country Companies Grayslake Agency, provided over $2 million of new life insurance protection for his clients in 1989. Of the nearly 1,200 Country Companies agents and agency managers, Glogovsky was one of the only 65 agents to place that much life insurance last year. The Country Companies are an insurance and investment group. Glogovsky's sincere interest in his clients' welfare, combined with a conviction towards the value of life insurance to the individual, contributed in large part to this outstanding life insurance sales performance.

FINANCIAL FOCUS

reported by Brosius D'Arcy

Two things the Tax Reform Act of 1986 didn't change concerning IRA contributions is the long-term advantage of tax-deferred earnings and investment flexibility.

Under the IRA shelter, you're free to exchange assets among investments or among mutual funds with various investment objectives. None of these exchanges are taxed. Outside your IRA, each exchange constitutes a sale and repurchase, and any gain must be reported and taxed that year.

Outside an IRA, you also pay taxes each year on any income and gains your investments earn whether you take or reinvest them. Inside your IRA, all earnings and income are allowed to grow and compound tax deferred until you begin withdrawals. Then, you pay taxes only on the amount you withdraw. If you're in a lower tax bracket at retirement, that could mean additional tax savings.

Even if your '2,000 annual IRA contribution no longer qualifies as a tax deduction, consider the future benefits of its tax shelter. The IRA remains an excellent retirement-planning vehicle.

1989 AWARD DEALER

LIKE AN AWARD WINNING DEALERSHIP, THE LIFETIME SERVICE GUARANTEE STANDS OUT FROM THE CROWD.

There are a lot of places you can take your Ford, Lincoln or Mercury for repairs. But we're the only place where you'll find the Lifetime Service Guarantee.

The Lifetime Service Guarantee is one car repair guarantee worth looking for. Because it means you'll never pay twice for a covered repair for as long as you own your car.

Here's how it works. Once you pay for a covered repair at any participating Ford or Lincoln-Mercury dealer nationwide, the bill will be stamped as an LSG repair. Then, if the same repair ever needs to be done again, just show your receipt and we'll fix it free. Free parts. Free labor. For life. It's that simple.

The Lifetime Service Guarantee, America's best car repair guarantee, covers virtually everything except normal wear and maintenance items like wiper blades and tires. And it's backed by certified technicians and quality Ford parts.

So ask us for a copy of the Lifetime Service Guarantee. It's the best way we know to bring you face to face with some Peace of Mind...

Candy firm unwraps consolidation plans

by DONNA DUNCAN
Lakeland Newspapers

Employees at Leaf, Inc. in Bannockburn are spared from losing their jobs during company-wide consolidation and plant closings.

However, 625 workers from two Chicago manufacturing plants need to find other jobs because those plants will close in two to three years.

The Ontario Street plant, which makes the Milk Duds candy, with 125 employees, will close in mid 1992 and the Cicero Avenue plant, manufacturer of Whoppers and Pow chewing gum, with 500 workers, will close in 1993.

Meantime, company officials say they are giving those employees early notice and are launching a retraining program to prepare them for new jobs.

"The corporate office in Bannockburn will remain intact," said James Grubik, senior vice president of operations. He added, "We will train (the Chicago-based) employees and work with city and state officials to determine what jobs are available and to help determine the best training program for the people.

The closings are part of a long-range business plan for the company. The plans also call for a company-wide simplification, modernization and consolidation of Leaf production facilities, according to a press release.

James A. Hanlon, president and chief executive officer of Leaf Inc. North America, said the decision to move the company's Chicago production capacity to other Leaf facilities was made after extensive studies of company resources and market factors and that the plans are irreversible.

Leaf's long-range strategy includes reorganizing production to dedicated "single-purpose" facilities with the technology and plant support to produce bar candy, hard candy, chocolate pieces, licorice, gum or other product lines.

"Recent acquisitions enable us to consolidate, simplify and modernize Leaf's operations by combining the production of similar candy brands," Hanlon said.

The production from the Chicago plants will possibly be transferred to Robinson, Ill. for chocolate candy and Memphis, Tenn. for gum products.

Business Capsule

Purchasing executives from Lake County's largest firms will comprise the panel which is scheduled to address small business owners at a conference on Wednesday, Feb. 14, in the Hotel Moraine, Highwood, from 8 to 10 a.m. Titled "How to Access the Bid Process" the program is being arranged by the Lake County Economic Development Commission and the College of Lake County Center for Economic Development. It is designed to help small and medium sized businesses learn the proper method of approaching a large industry in attempt to compete for orders of goods and services. Persons interested in attending the conference may call the Economic Development Commission office for a registration form at (708)360-6350. There is a $15 fee for the two-hour session which includes continental breakfast.

The Northern Ill. Assn. of Personnel Administrators (NIAPA) will be holding its next luncheon meeting on Thursday, Feb. 8 at 11:30 a.m. at Harrison Conference Center in Lake Bluff. Sharon Reese, Chairman of the Board of The Astor Group, will be the guest speaker. Her topic will be "Setting the tone for positive communication." Reese is a trainer, lecturer, and writer on areas of human resource development. Guests are welcome to attend. Cost is $25 for non-members, which includes a luncheon buffet. Reservations required. Contact Kay Fragale, (708)816-2299 for reservations.

Terminating an Older Employee -- Age Discrimination?

This week's question from The Illinois Chamber HELPLINE

Q. Can I terminate my 71-year-old office clerk without worry of an age discrimination charge? Isn't it OK, over age 70?

A. No. The Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1976 had an upper age limit of 70, but it was removed January 1, 1987. You should have the same concerns for all employees age 40 and over -- treat all employees alike.

If employers would like more information on this and other Chamber services call, 312-372-7373.

Five different people, five very different situations.

One solution

An Individual Retirement Account at Kenosha Savings and Loan Association.

There are about as many reasons for having a Kenosha Savings' IRA as there are people to have them. For some, it's one of the best tax shelters available. Each working individual may be able to reduce their taxable income by as much as $2,000 annually. For others, an IRA is a high yielding investment in which the interest income is not taxed. For many, an IRA is the best retirement plan available; and with payroll deduction, it can be one of the easiest. With a spousal IRA, a non-working mate can have a retirement plan in his or her name.

Kenosha Savings and Loan is a leader in the industry and one of the strongest FDIC insured institutions in the entire United States. The type of innovative institution that provides the financial services you need and the security you deserve.

No matter what your situation, there are a number of options for your retirement investments. Stop at our office today and find the best IRA option for you.

Tax benefit for lower income

The Earned Income Credit (EIC) helps low-income families with children to keep more of the income they earn.

To be eligible for the credit:

- you must have earned income, such as wages, tips, or earnings from self-employment;
- both your earned income and adjusted gross income must be less than $19,340;
- your filing status must be Head of Household, Married Filing a Joint Return, or Qualifying Widow(er) with Dependent Child; and

-- you must have one or more children living with you in the United States for more than half the year (the entire year if you file as a qualifying widow(er) or the child is a foster child). "Child" is defined slightly differently for each filing status.

The credit can be as much as $910 and may be refunded to you if you owe no other taxes.

consistent. Taxpayers should establish a set place to file information, be it a desk drawer, a file cabinet, or simply a box on a shelf. Separate folders or envelopes should be labeled for each tax topic, such as income, various itemized deduction expenses, costs of assets, and tax credit and payment information. Any cancelled checks, bills, receipts, or statements relating to any category should be filed in the proper folder as soon as possible. Having all tax records available and organized helps taxpayers to file their federal tax returns at the end of the year, saving the time and aggravation caused by trying to reconstruct the year's events at the last minute. Good records also make tax and financial planning easier. And finally, it allows taxpayers to answer any questions the IRS may have in the future regarding tax returns filed.

Lump Sum Distribution Seminar

Is it better to pay taxes or use an IRA rollover?

This free seminar may well help you save hundreds--perhaps thousands--of your retirement dollars. This comprehensive review of retirement plan distributions can show you whether it is better to pay taxes now--using special income-averaging--or to take advantage of the tax deferral of an IRA rollover.

Tax filing tips for the newly divorced

A recent divorce or separation may have caused major changes in, not only your lifestyle, but your taxes as well. The following are a few general guidelines and tax tips to assist you at tax time:

• Choose the correct filing status
- Your marital status is important in determining which status you will file. You may file as "single" if you are unmarried and obtained your divorce, legal separation, determining by state law, or annulment by the end of your tax year, usually Dec. 31. You generally may file as "head of the household" if you are unmarried at the end of the tax year or are married and lived apart from your spouse the last six months of the tax year, and you kept up a home for your child, listing the child's name on the return, or, if you are unmarried, for the person for whom you can claim as a dependent. Couples not divorced by year end may be able to file a "joint" return, married filing joint status, or separate returns, married filing separate status.

• Exemption amount increases for 1989 - You are allowed to deduct $2,000 for yourself and each person you can claim as your dependent for the 1989 tax year. An exemption for your spouse is allowed only if you are married and file a joint return with your spouse, or you file a separate return and the spouse had no gross income and was not a dependent on another person's return. You must list the social security numbers of all dependents who turned two years old by the end of the tax year.

• Who gets to claim the kids? - There are several tests a parent must meet to claim an exemption for a child. A child's exemption usually may be claimed by one of the parents, not both, if the child had gross income of less than $2,000 for 1989 or that child is under 19 or is a student under 24. Generally, the parent who provided more than half the child's support is allowed to claim the dependent's exemption. The parent who has custody of the child for the greater part of the year is generally treated as the parent who provided more support. If neither a divorce decree nor agreement establishes custody, then the parent who had physical custody for the greater part of the year is considered to have custody of the child. The custodial parent can release the exemption to the noncustodial parent by signing a written declaration, Form 8332, "Release of Claim to Exemption for Child of Divorced or Separated Parents," or similar statement.

• Alimony is income for one—deductible for the other - Alimony or separate maintenance payments you make to your spouse or ex-spouse under a divorce or separation agreement are tax deductible. You do not have to itemize deductions to claim alimony payments.

Will you be financially prepared for retirement?

Retirement may seem like a long way off now, but it's never too early to start planning for it.

In fact, according to a recent study by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, for every 100 people starting their careers, only three of them have annual incomes over $29,000 at age 65! The other 97 people with retirement incomes under $29,000 didn't plan to fail...they just failed to plan.

Investing your money today so it can grow into a sizable retirement fund is a good plan to follow. A Flexible Premium Deferred Annuity from Country Investors Life Assurance Company, one of the Country Companies, can help you start your plans for retirement.

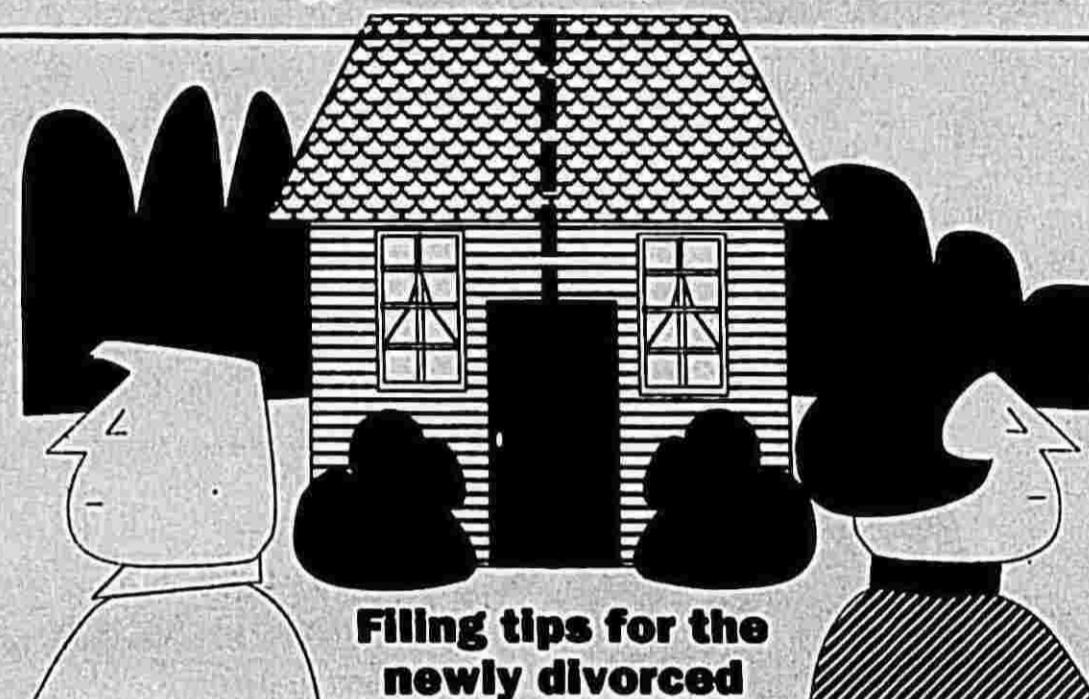

Your contributions earn tax-deferred interest until you withdraw your money. You can contribute as much or as little as you like, within certain limits, and you can even stop your payments for a while if you choose.

Doesn't this sound like an investment you can live with throughout your retirement years?

The Electronic Filing System

Electronic filing speeds refunds

Last year over a million taxpayers shaved at least three weeks off the time it normally takes to get a federal tax refund, and decreased the likelihood of an error in their tax returns by filing electronically.

This year for the first time, electronic filing of tax returns will be offered nationwide for those who expect to receive a federal tax refund.

Electronically filed returns are transmitted over telephone lines directly to IRS computers by tax practitioners, financial institutions, and others who have been accepted in the program by the IRS.

For taxpayers, the electronic filing of their tax returns means they should receive their tax refunds in the mail in about three weeks after the returns are accepted by the IRS, fully three weeks faster than mailed tax returns. Also, there is less likelihood of errors on the returns and almost no chance of the returns going astray.

If taxpayers desire, they can indicate on Form 8453, "U.S. Individual Income Tax Declaration for Electronic Filing" (which their return transmitter will provide), that they want Direct Deposit of their refunds into their savings or checking accounts.

Why wait for your federal income tax refund?

- receive your refund anticipation loan in a matter of days
- no cash needed—all fees can be withheld from your check
- available whether we prepare your return or not

THIS WEEK'SHOROSCOPE*By Joyce Jillson

Weekly Tip: Hang onto your hats — a high-energy week. Maintain open channels of communication.

Aries (March 21-April 19) Improved job conditions early in the week improve your outlook on life. Talk things out.

Taurus (April 20-May 20) You're in a chipper mood. Express freely what you have to say.

Gemini (May 21-June 21) Keep spending within reasonable bounds. You have renewed optimism about life. Love affairs are likely.

Cancer (June 22-July 22) You may be hiding something from loved ones early in the week. Do what's right for you and safeguard your finances.

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22) Friendships are a pleasure this week. Spotlight personal and love interests. Surprises.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Career goals shift this week, but you'll enjoy the change. Try to stay on good terms with co-workers.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Communicate with people you haven't seen for a long time. Career demands are heavier.

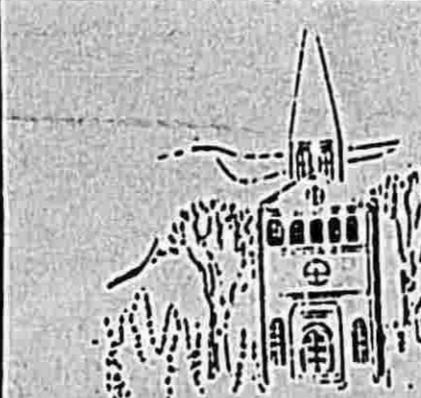

Scorpio (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) Look into joint financial matters and make sure you are getting what you're entitled to. Do a house-cleaning.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) Relationships are influenced greatly by material conditions. Be disciplined in financial matters.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Stick with what you know. Stay out of emotional pressure cookers. There's more to be happy about.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Children may be more of a responsibility this week; talk with them. Improved health and job conditions.

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20) You have more influence at home early in the week. Many and varied social activities.

Church Talk

Johnsburg

The last big breakfast before Lent is Sunday, Feb. 25 from 7:45 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Community Club in Johnsburg. Cost is adults $3.50, seniors and children under 10 years $3. Free-throw contest

Libertyville High School will host a free-throw shooting contest for girls Feb. 17.

Girls in grades five, six, seven and eight who will be in the LHS district are eligible.

The event will begin at 1 p.m. at the Brainerd gym and no pre-registration is necessary.

Dug Out tourneys

Dug Out Park in Trevor, Wis. has set dates for upcoming February tournaments.

Feb. 10 and 11 is the 10th annual 12 inch slow pitch tournament. The entry fee is $75. Also this weekend, there is a co-ed volleyball tournament with an entry fee of $25.

Feb. 17 and 18 Dug Out will host a co-ed 12 inch softball tournament. The entry fee is $50.

For the softball tournament, red, white and blue balls are used and tires are used for bases in case of snow.

Dug Out Park is located in Hwy. 83 two miles north of the Illinois-Wisconsin state line. For more information, call tournament director Tom Furlan at (414) 862-9936 or (708) 395-5788.

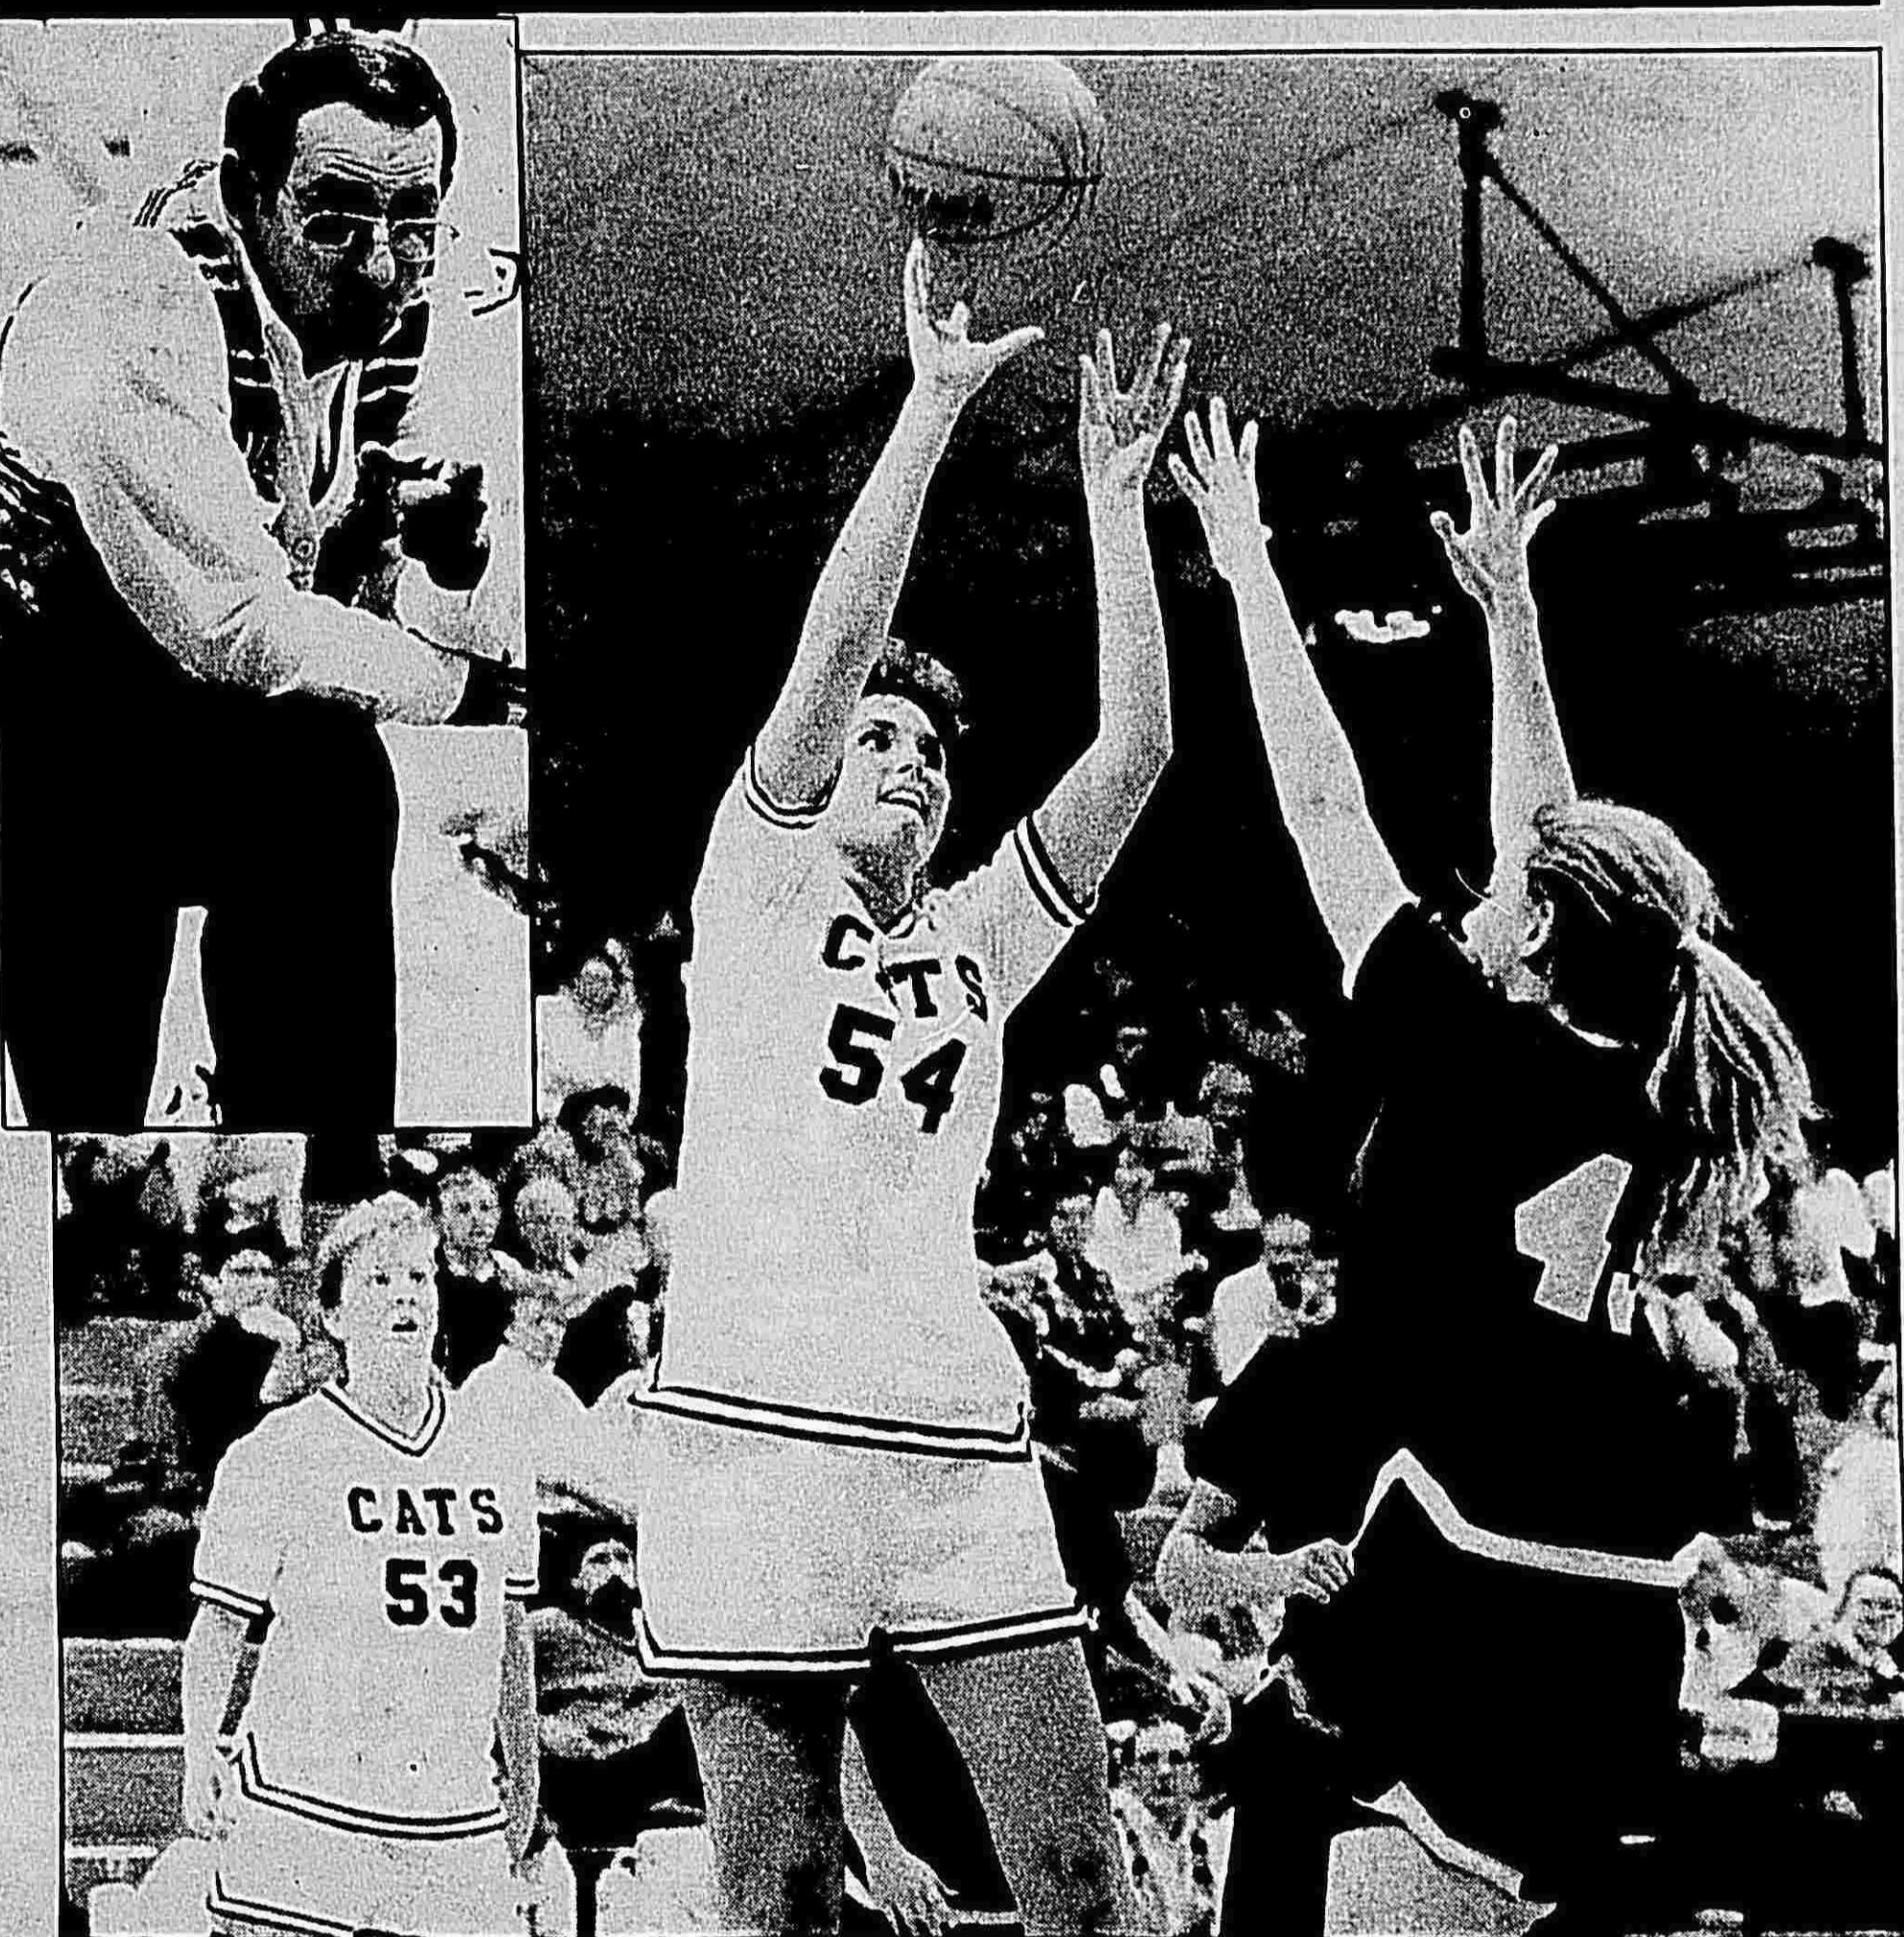

ACEP classes

The College of Lake County will be hosting an American Coaching Effectiveness Program (ACEP) Feb. 10 and 17.

ACEP is a program geared to coaching young athletes. It deals with:

- coaching philosophy;
- sport pedagogy;
- sport physiology;
- sport medicine.

The fee is $22.30. Textbooks required are: ACEP Coaches Study Guide, $1.28 and Coaching Young Athletes, $14.91. To register, call the CLC registration office at (708) 223-1111 or for more information, the CLC Physical Education Dept. at (708) 223-3600.

Antioch girls

recover from start, reach final

After shaking off a slow start, Antioch's girls basketball team put together three straight solid quarters to eliminate Grant and reach the regional final against rival Round Lake.

"I think it was just nervousness," Antioch Coach Al Tamburino said.

But after securing a tie at 13-13, Antioch dominated the second and third quarters, opening up an 18-point gap and cruised to a 55-47 win.

"We just not aggressive at the start of the game," Coach John Schad said.

The loss ended Grant's season at 12-12.

Grant played Antioch, which faced favored Round Lake Feb. 8, stayed with the Sequoits for eight minutes and led 12-9 on a fastbreak basket by Debbie Selle.

But Antioch scored twice more, and despite six-for-24 shooting, the first quarter ended in a 13-13 tie.

"We will have to have a better start against Round Lake," Tamburino said.

The second period saw Grant take a very early lead on a Selle hoop but Antioch opened up a six point cushion on a basket by Liz Johnson.

The third quarter was the turning point for the Bulldogs as the Sequoits extended the lead to 10 as Grant's turnover problem continued. Grant had 17 turnovers midway through the third quarter.

The lead reached 18 points in the fourth quarter, 50-32.

Senior Amy Nelson had 13 points and was the only Bulldog to tally in double figures.

Antioch was paced with a balanced attack. Terri Farnsworth had 15 points, Johnson had 11 and Jenny Hagen 10.

"It was one of the best games we have played in a long time," Antioch Tamburino said.

The Sequoits, 13-13, were not looking past the Bulldogs, in part because of the two teams' similar records. "We knew we had to get past them first," Tamburino said.

Reaching the regional final marked a drastic comeback for the Antioch program, which won just one game last year.

Tamburino is in his first year as head coach.

The favored Panthers had no trouble in the opener against Grayslake. They defeated the Rams 65-35, notching their fourth win of the season over the Rams.

Cyndie Donner led the Panthers with 24 points. A 22-7 run sent the Panthers off and running.

Roth's intensity shows in Pats' win

By STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

When it comes to role models, Stevenson's Eric Roth could be hard-pressed to make a better selection.

"I like Magic Johnson and Larry Bird," Roth said after the Pats had easily beaten Mundelein 71-48 Saturday.

"I like them because they are so consistent. They see the court so well. They don't score 10 points one night, 40 the next, and call it a 30 point average. They score 30 points every night," Roth said.

Roth, who guarded Mundelein's Jeff Frantz and helped out on Jeff Winckler, has had plenty of chances to watch Magic do his thing for the Lakers and Bird wow the Boston fans as his father, Don, has season tickets to the Chicago Bulls games.

Roth led a powerful inside attack for the Patriots who dominated in three of the four quarters. Coach George Katich was able to use the substitutes in the final minutes as the lead reached 30 points.

But Roth was the first to admit his showing in a loss to Fenton the night before was not up to par.

"I had no intensity against Fenton. I went to the YMCA with my Dad and he showed me some things I needed to work on," Roth said.

The Pats won the battle of the paint from the get-go. "Sometimes we come out and absolutely dominate the boards. It is a look that you can see in everyone's eyes. From the first shot that goes up, it will be our team controlling the rebound," Roth said.

Early in the season, Roth, a Lincolnshire native, had to prove he belonged on the varsity. After all, he was a sophomore. But strong showings left any doubters convinced until a mid-season slump hurt his game.

The win improved Stevenson to 12-8 overall, 8-5 in the North Suburban, three games behind league leaders Lake Forest and Libertyville.

"I'm not giving up and I know no one else on our team is. That would be foolish. We still have Lake Forest, Libertyville and Warren again. We have not given up," Roth said.

"The kids feel that Saturday night is their night," Katich said.

The Mustangs, who had beaten North Chicago a day earlier, never led in this home contest as Stevenson made sure this would be a long night with a 5-0 start.

Two baskets by guard Boomer Whipple, who had 16 points, one a three-pointer, sent the Patriots to a six-for-10 start from the field.

Chris Coleman contributed 13 points to give the Pats, 65-43 losers at Fenton Friday, three double digit scorers.

Payne, Huntington lead CLC women in loop win

College of Lake County's women's basketball team bounced back from a close loss to Elgin to thump Wright Monday afternoon in Chicago.

The game was a make-up of a contest postponed Jan. 25 because of the blizzard.

The Lancers led from the start in the 83-48 win. Crystal Payne led the winners with 24 points and Teri Huntington had 23, including seven-of-eight from the free-throw line. The 83 points marked the Lancers' best effort on offense and their third win in four games.

"The girls have realized to rely on each other and play together," CLC Coach Don Zeman said.

CLC was 4-4 in the Skyway, 5-12 overall after the win.

The Lancers, who host McHenry Feb. 13 in their next home game, doubled the Rams in the first half, 38-19 and then built the lead after that.

"It was good to see we did not let down," Zeman said.

Against Elgin, the Lancers shut down the Spartan player who hurt them the most the first time the two teams played, Eve Barry, but Elgin found different weapons to pull out a 70-68 win.

"We were psyched up to defend Barry but they killed us with their outside shots," Zeman said.

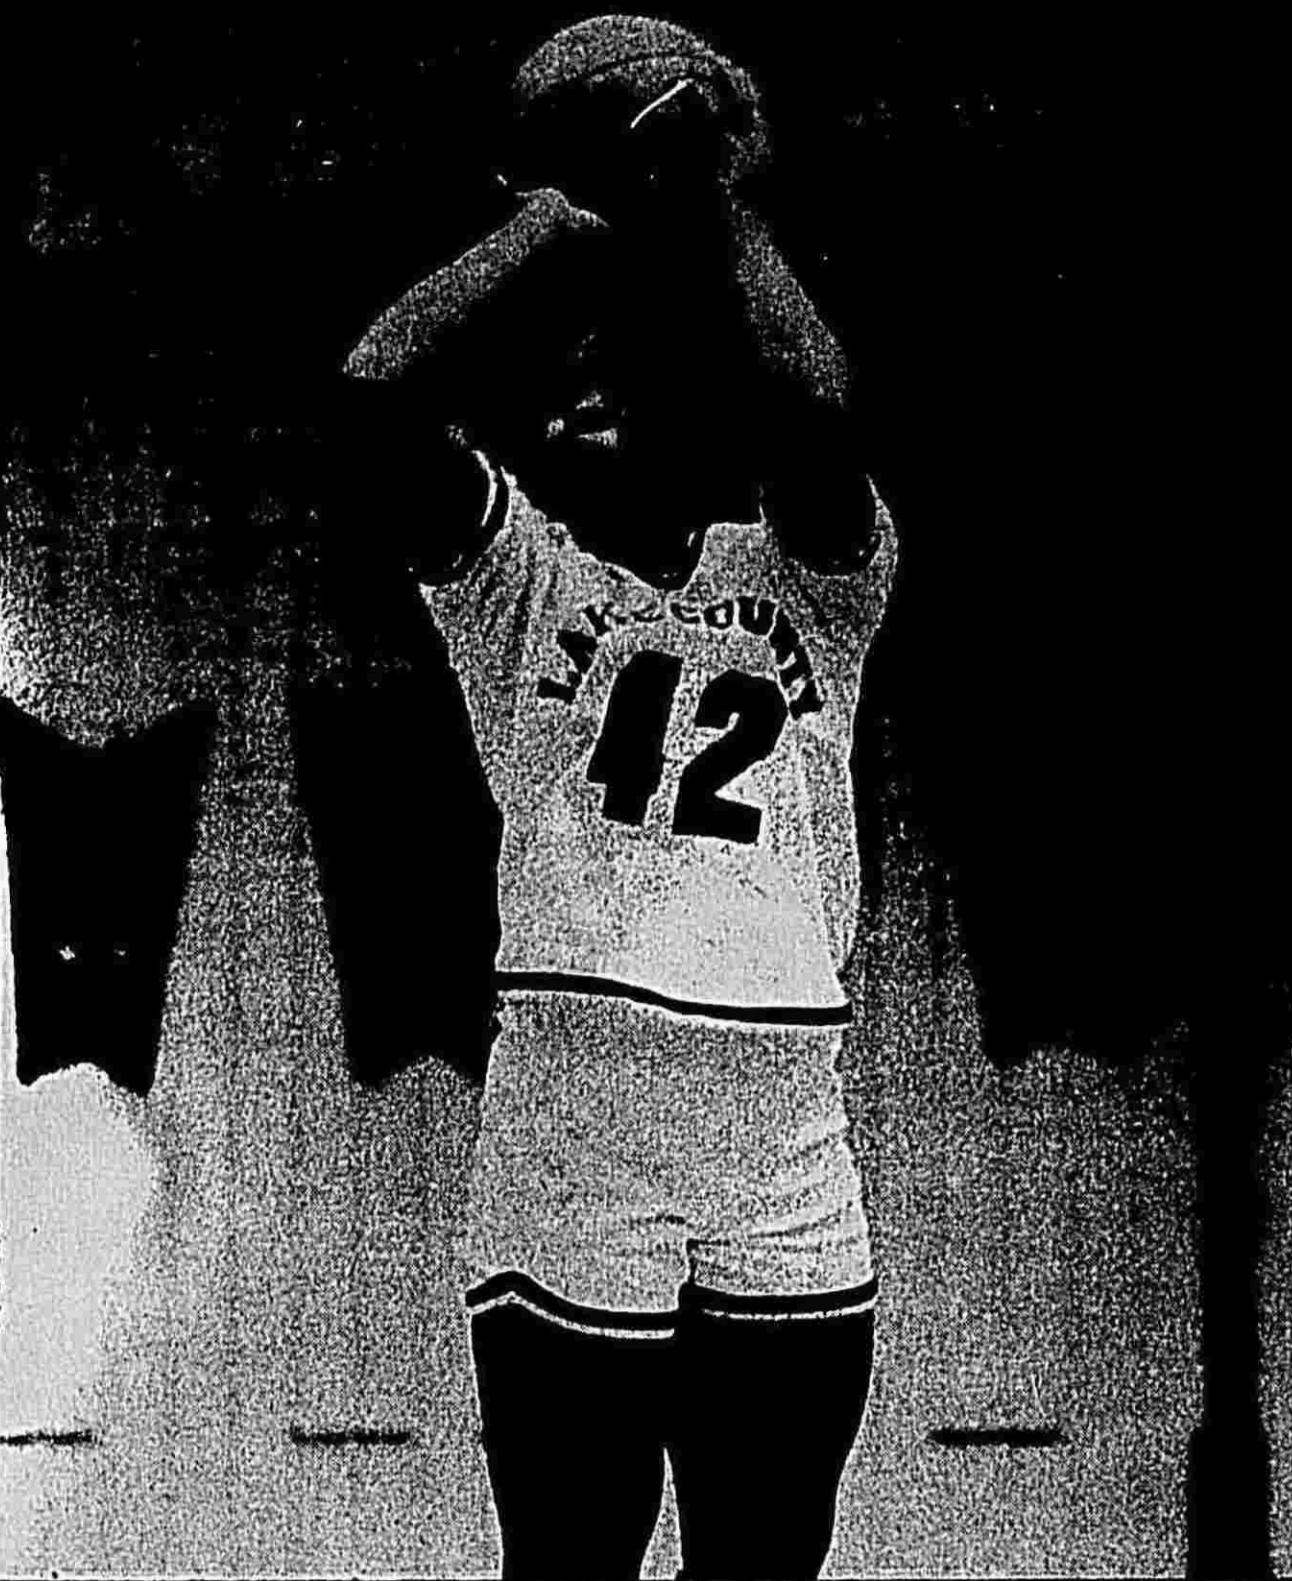

Barry, who scored 30 points in an earlier game against CLC, was held to 10. But Heidi Fuchs, a Hampshire graduate, had 25 points and Beth Salvaggio, a Dundee-Crown graduate, had 20.

Kelly Doyle, an Antioch High graduate, had 19 points to lead CLC and Payne had 18. Candace Blanton had 12 points for the home team.

CLC led in the first half, opening a 22-16 margin on two hoops by Payne.

Elgin closed the gap to four twice, but CLC kept a 39-33 lead at halftime.

In the second half, Elgin caught the Lancers on a basket by Beth Salvaggio with 12:08 left.

Green's hot shooting paces CLC to victories

The College of Lake County's mens basketball team was hoping to even their overall and Skyway Conference records this week.

The Lancers host Milwaukee Area Technical College (MATC) at 3 p.m. Feb. 10 after facing Skyway Conference foes Truman and Oakton in away contests Tuesday and Saturday.

Last week featured two CLC league wins and a close non-conference loss.

The Lancers were paced by nine-of-11 shooting from the three-point line by Greg Green in a 106-100 shootout over Morton Tuesday.

"He scored 27 points on three-pointers. That's almost impossible," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said.

Corey Statham and Nick Stianos both turned in strong games, scoring 26 and 11 points, respectively.

Green led again in scoring for CLC, tallying 22 points while Ryan Coskey had 21.

Payne eyes two

College of Lake County's Crystal Payne eyes two more points in contest against Elgin. The Lancers lost that contest, but bounced back to beat Wright as Payne scored 24 points in 84-43 win over Wright. CLC's next home game is against McHenry Feb. 13. - Photo by Joe Shuman.

Wildcats top rankings

One top five team locked up a tie for a conference title while another set up a slowdown in boys basketball action.

This week's top five:

1. Libertyville: (16-3, 11-2 in the NSC): the Wildcats set up a showdown with fellow NSC leader Lake Forest Feb. 9, with a double-overtime thriller over Warren 68-67, and a win in a slowdown game against Fenton, 46-36. Jon Bauer sank clutch free throws, had early steals and scored 18 points against Warren. Against Fenton, Brian Davis, a junior, led his team with 12 points.

2. Richmond-Burton (18-1, 11-1 in Big Eight Conference): the last time the Rockets won a share of the conference title, it was the Little Eight. Richmond trounced Huntley 68-59 to claim a share of the Big Eight crown. Roger Hauri led the Rockets in two BEC wins last week. Next: Rockets travel to St. Charles to faces Valley Lutheran with a chance to claim the title outright.

3. Round Lake (16-3, 7-2 in the Northwest Suburban): Panthers, on a shot by Taylor Fiene, survive a 52-51 thriller at Wauconda. Next: at Lake Zurich Feb. 9.

4. Stevenson: (12-8, 8-5 in NSC): Patriots use 19 points by Eric Roth and dominate inside to crush Mundelein 71-48 after losing to Fenton. Next: host Zion-Benton Feb. 9 and are at Antioch Feb. 10.

5. Carmel (10-9, 4-6 in East Suburban Catholic Conference): Corsairs use fast start to power past Holy Cross 76-57 to claim fifth spot in rankings. Sean Ryan led with 21 points. Next: Corsairs hit the road this week, at St. Joseph for ESCC battle Feb. 9 and at Deerfield Feb. 10.

Round Lake grapplers start their careers early

By JOE SHUMAN

Lakeland Newspapers
For several years now the Round Lake High School wrestling program has steadily increased into a formidable contender in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Most of this is due in part to the program Round Lake has used. From its park district, to the junior high program, young well rounded wrestlers are coming to compete at the high school level.

When they finally reach that level they then enter into the family-type team atmosphere that head wrestling Coach Bob Curran has offered his athletes.

In fact, some may say that Coach Curran has brought his Varsity teams its success. To Coach Curran its the well rounded program that has brought success to both the team and himself.

"I'm very proud of the kids here at Round Lake", said Coach Curran.

"It's a team effort, and we pride ourselves in that team-like atmosphere".

As the season slowly roles to an end one thing will be known from this very low-keyed coach. His team will always be a family with the strong team effort placed on his kids and the Round Lake program.

Round Lake will have a good showing as they enter into the Barrington Sectional Feb. 10.

The following individuals will compete Saturday for sectionals. For Round

For Mundelein, Eric Brown (2nd at 112); Kevin Browne (3rd at 130).

For Stevenson, Jerry Follett (3rd at 112); Mark Waldrop (3rd at 125); John Davis (3rd at 135); Kelly Wilhelm (3rd at 140); Chris Chang (1st at 145); Jeff Morgan (2nd at 160).

For Grant, Randy Melton (1st at 125); Tony Pintozzi (2nd at 130); Paul Swanson (1st at 152).

For Grayslake, Mike Kearby (2nd at 103); Curt Onstad (1st at 112); Jeff Walls (1st at 140); Ryan Geist (1st at 145).

For Lake Zurich, Mike McCallum (1st at 130); Bill Mates (3rd at 171); Derek Pijut (2nd at 189).

For Antioch, Chris Tointon (1st at 103); Glen Osmond (1st at 130); Matt Stedl (3rd at 145); John Stedl (3rd at 152); Tom Lehn 3rd at 160).

For Wauconda, Jason Daun (2nd at 135); Matt Vandiepen (2nd at 152); Chris Rude (2nd at 171); Dave Cashmore (1st at 189); Nate Schroeder (3rd at Hwt.).

For Warren, Jeff Ray (3rd at 135); Breu Jackson (2nd at 140); Paul McKissick (2nd at 171); Bagheera Taylor (1st at 189); Jason Burnati (1st at Hwt.).

News, Views & Questions About Your Eyes

By

Robert L. Epstein, M.D., Director
Illinois Center for Corrective Eye Surgery

QUESTION: What can you tell me about eyelid surgery?

ANSWER: People who have surgery on their eyelids and tissues surrounding the eye do so for both health and appearance related reasons.

Due to the effects of aging or perhaps birth defects, the eyelids of many people appear to be "baggy" or to droop. For some people this condition may actually cause vision problems.

Other people have eyelid and eyebrow surgery to correct scars or damage caused by injuries or birth defects, to remove eyelid tumors, to assure the fit of an artificial eye or to accommodate changes in the shape of the eye and eyelid due to conditions such as thyroid disease. People considering surgery on eyelids, eyebrows and on tissues near the eye should first consult with an ophthalmic plastic surgeon.

Corsairs brace for road games, important stretch

Carmel cured a problem of slow starts and gave the home crowd the best show on offense to date before hitting the road for two games this weekend.

Carmel led 20-11 after eight minutes and cruised to a 76-57 win over Holy Cross Friday in Mundelein. The win bettered Carmel to 10-9 overall, 4-6 in the East Suburban Catholic Conference.

The Ryan brothers - Sean and Kevin - provided a formidable one-two punch.

Sean, a senior, scored 22 points and Kevin added 12.

"We came out ready to play. We were all firing on all cylinders," Rosberg said.

"Sean is a very active player and when we get him the ball good things happen. Kevin did a nice job on the boards," Rosberg said.

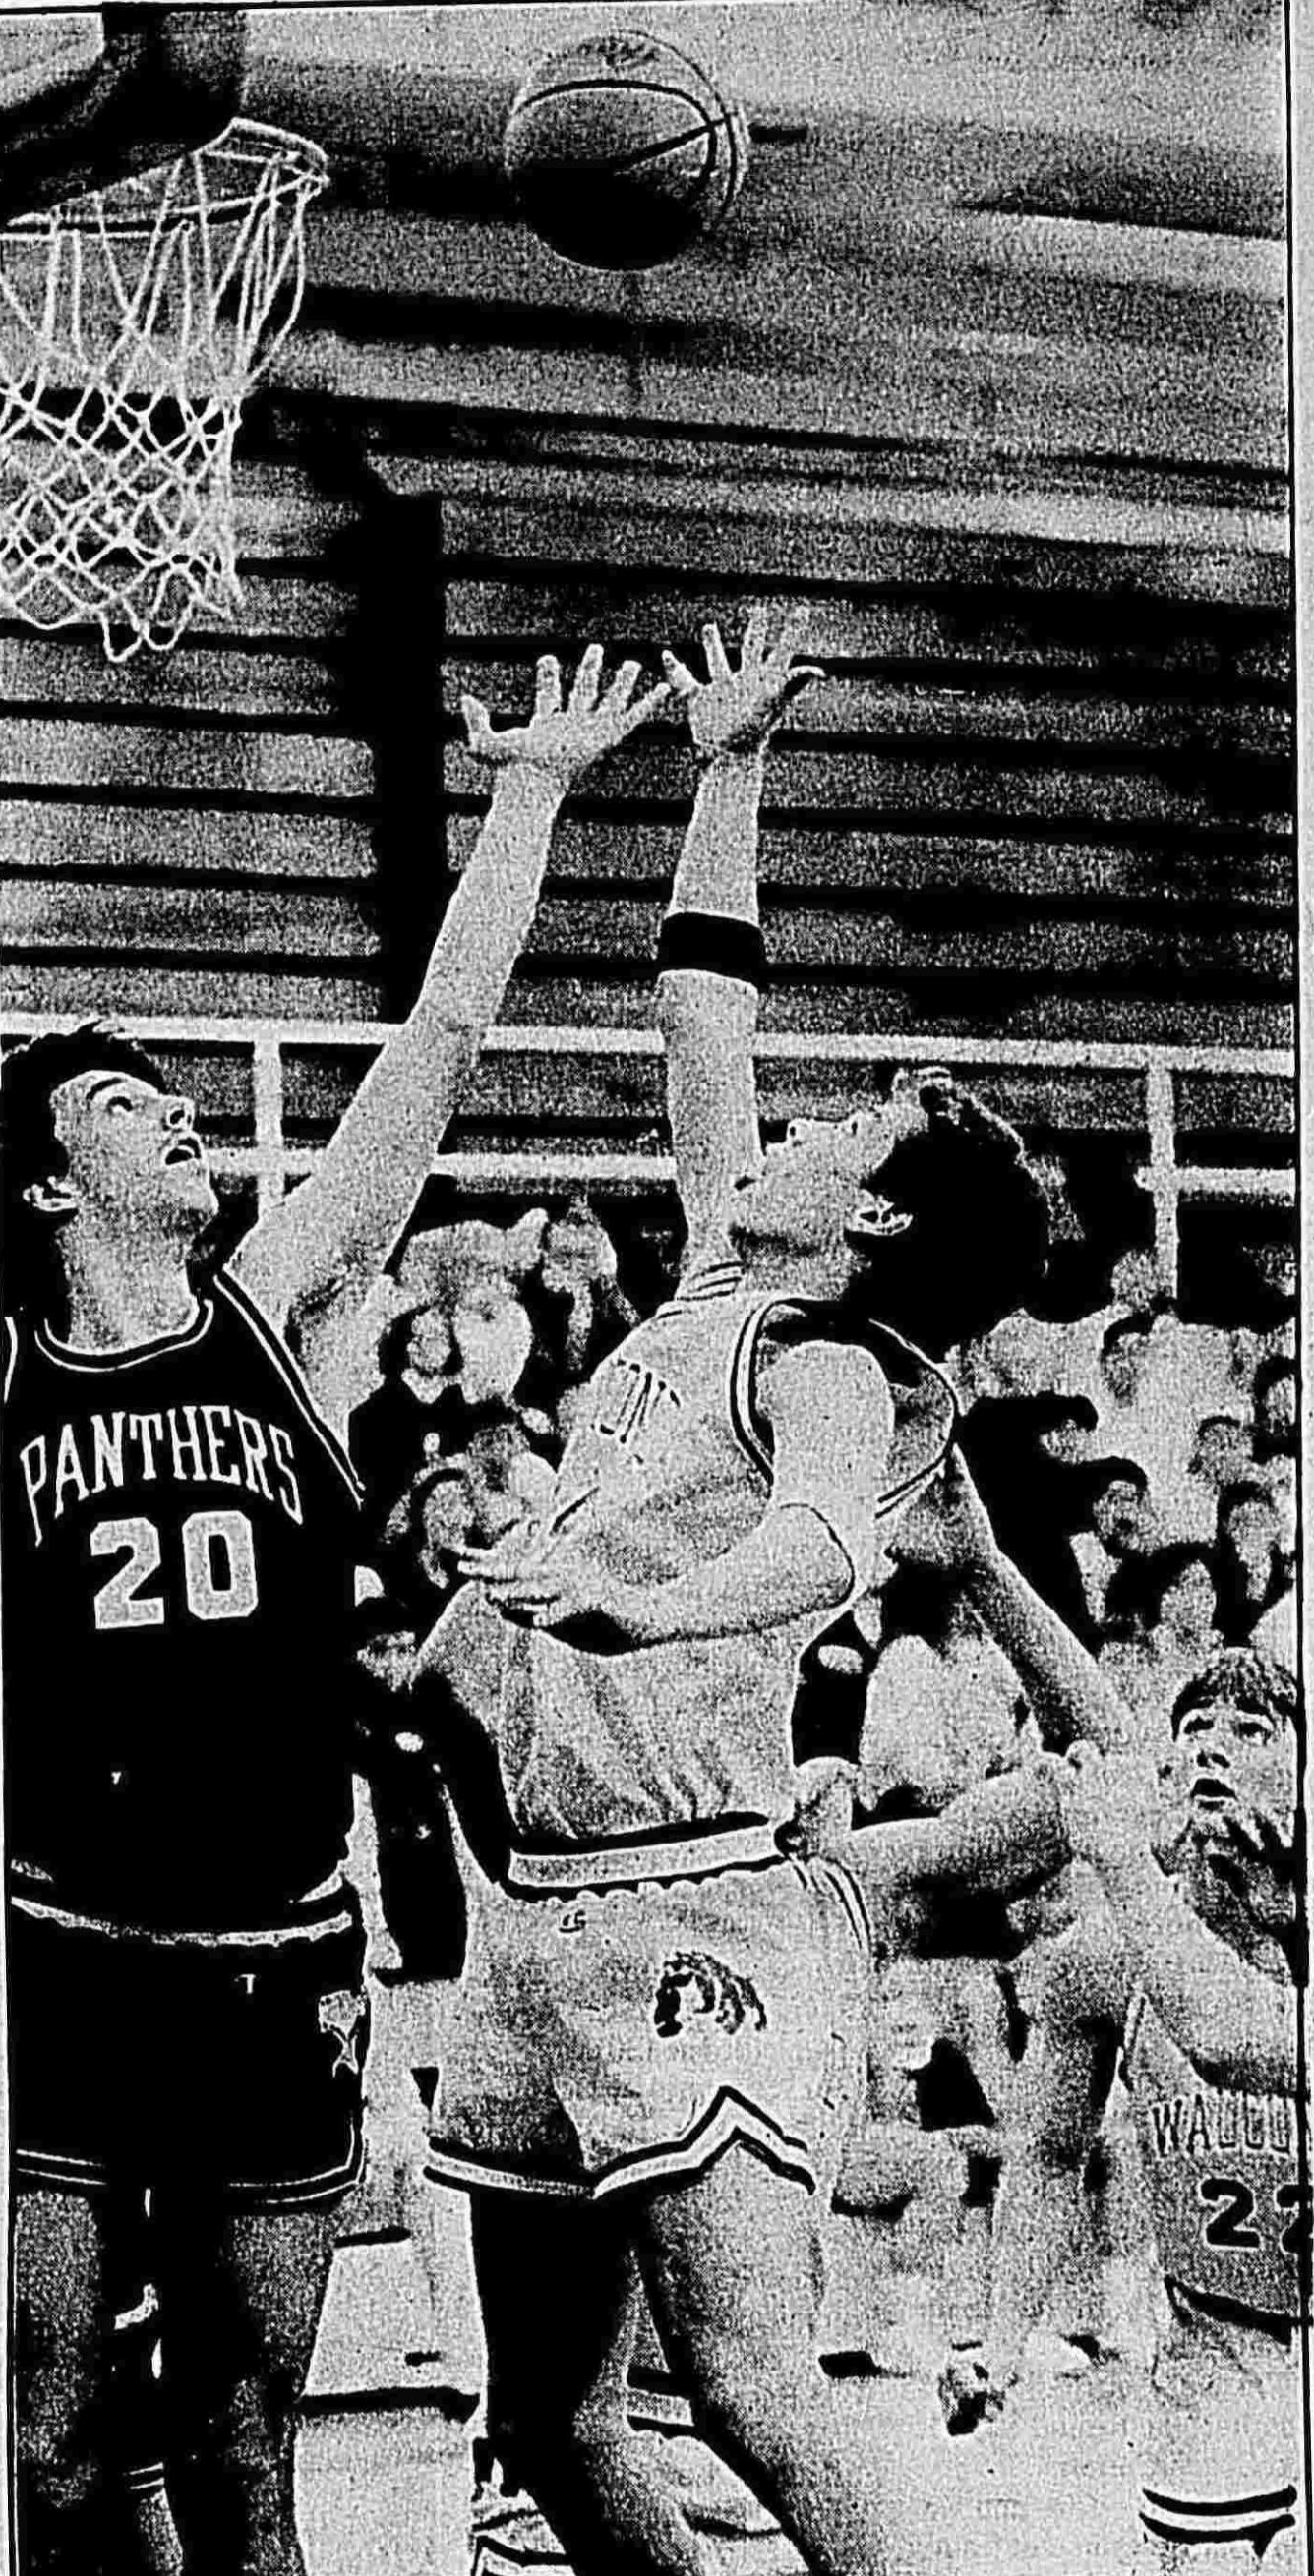

Carmel pulled away to a 17-point lead at halftime and Holy Cross never threatened.

Rosberg praised Carmel's efforts in practice this week.

The Corsairs will begin an important five-games in nine day stretch at ESCC power St. Joseph Feb. 9. Carmel then travels to Deerfield Feb. 10.

"It's always tough to play down there. But if you control the tempo, you have a chance at winning," Rosberg said.

"Some say that non-conference games are meaningless. But I think they are far from it. They show the type of heart and desire you have," Rosberg said.

Panthers survive test, prepare for Bears next

Two teams which have had their share of illness and injury will battle it out when Round Lake travels to Lake Zurich Feb. 9.

The first time these two teams met was the first game that Jack Denny was missing from the Lake Zurich lineup. It also was the game which had a 25-minute delay when Round Lake's Mark Dittmer delivered.

The Panthers survived that contest to pull out a win, but Coach Bob Ward's team knows it cannot look past Lake Zurich.

Taylor Fiene delivered his second game-winning shot in the final 10 seconds this season as Round Lake edged Wauconda 52-51 last Friday.

"At Hampshire we had a designed play for Fiene but last night we looked to the post but that did not open up. He just took it down the middle and drove," Ward said.

"They are a much improved team," Round Lake Coach Ward said of the Bulldogs.

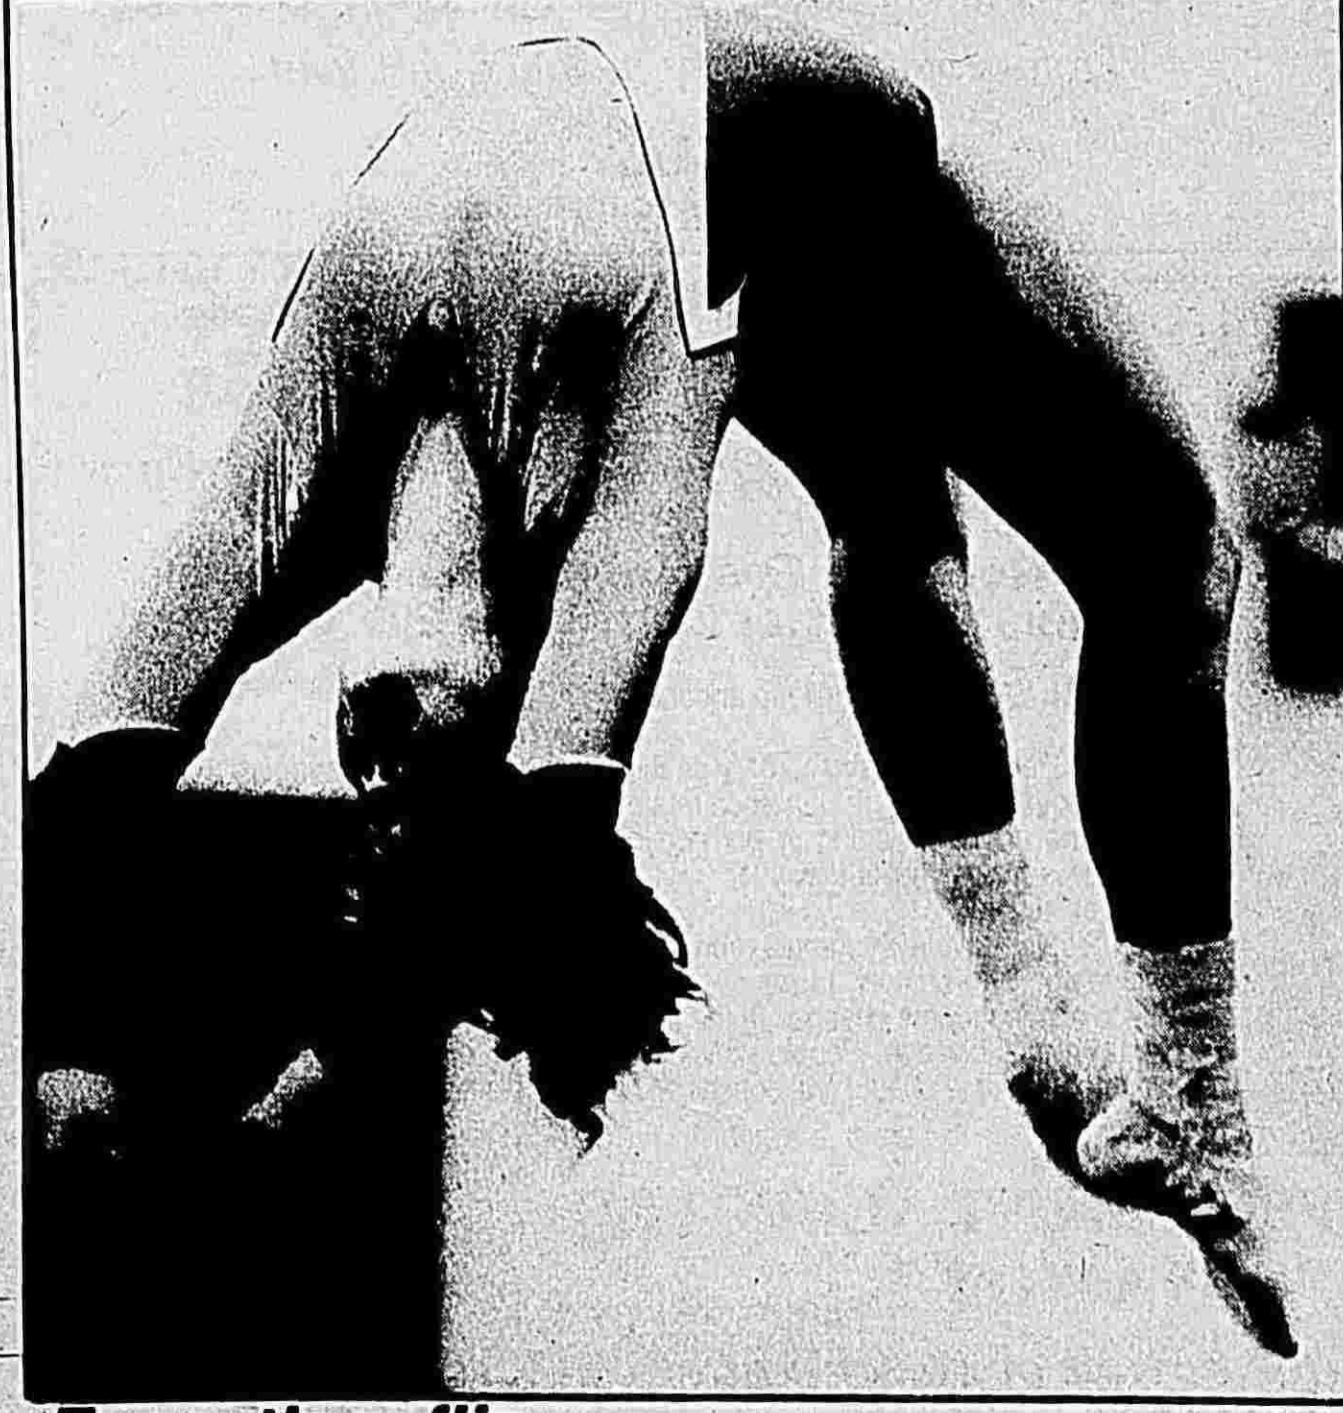

The Bulldogs tried to get a final three-point shot off but it missed.

Dave Burton paced Round Lake, who faced Johnsburg Wednesday, with 15 points against Wauconda.

"We had a problem shooting free throws (six for 19). We were our own worst enemy at times," Ward said.

Round Lake started strong, leading but 18-9 at the outset. Wauconda was led in scoring by Dave Schmitz, who had 15 points. Rick Dixon scored 13. "He played the best game I've seen him play in three years," Ward said of Dixon.

Elsewhere in the NWSC, Marengo stayed two games ahead of Round Lake with a 68-55 win at Johnsburg.

Community Center set for busy February

On Tuesday, Feb. 13, the Fox Lake Community Center Club will sponsor a Valentine's Day party. All area residents are invited. The price of the luncheon is $3.25, for turkey chop suey with bean sprouts, steamed rice, mixed vegetables, tossed salad, and a Valentine cupcake. All meals include bread or rolls, and a beverage.

The "Party Committee," chaired by Blanche Usalis, is providing wine and non-alcoholic beverage, Valentine candy, and some prizes. In addition, they are asking people to wear red and/or white, if possible, and to bring a special Valentine to be put into a box and distributed.

"We're delighted to have special entertainment at the party," added Usalis. "We hope to have the vocal entertainment of Charlotte Kiesgen. We suggest that you make your reservations early by calling (708)587-3335.

Also on Feb. 13 will be free blood pressure testing from 9 - 11 a.m.

On Thursday, Feb. 15, in addition to the roast beef lunch, there will be a two-film presentation by the Fox Lake Dist. Library. Cindy Lobaza will be showing an award winning cartoon, "Anna & Bella," and a short Laurell and Hardy Film, "Love 'em and Weep."

"Come and eat a delicious lunch, and then have some laughs with us," urged Marlene Brown, coordinator. Call (708)587-3335 for information.

The Fox Lake Community Center has had an increased turn-out for the monthly Rules of the Road Course. Anyone interested in taking the free course, provided by the Secretary of State's office, should call the center at (708)587-3335.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste sticks to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. But that's expensive, and often only a temporary help.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. It's totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep

Conservation Dist. tree sale begins

Order forms and cost information may be obtained by writing or calling Lake County Soil and Water Conservation Dist. Tree Sale. This year's sale will represent the ninth year the district has made available plant materials to county residents to promote the planting of trees and shrubs; and as a fundraiser to support district natural resource programs. The 1990 sale will again feature a variety of plant materials ranging from evergreen seedlings, to bare rooted shrubs, to balled and burlapped deciduous trees.

As in the past, a special selection of shrubs and trees are available to the urban homeowner. The species offered are selected for their value to urban wildlife, screening, and/or specimen value.

Transfer Students

The following students from the Lakeland area have enrolled as transfer students at Lake Forest College. Holly Chandler of Gurnee is a graduate of Warren Twp. High School. Kathy Regas of Gurnee is the daughter of Gus and Jane Regas and a graduate of Warren Twp. High School. Theresa Klciner of Lindenhurst is a graduate of Glenbrook North High School in Northbrook. John Ireland, son of Anita Ireland of Wadsworth, is a graduate of Lake Forest Academy.

UNLOCK THE EQUITY IN YOUR HOME THE-SENSIBLE WAY.

Finally, here's a way to take advantage of the equity in your home and enjoy the TAX BENEFITS without the risk of rising interest rates or the fear of having to refinance your mortgage.

GURNEE NATIONAL BANK presents the SENSIBLE HOME EQUITY LOAN. Compare our benefits:

- Fixed interest rate for the life of the loan
- Repayment of BOTH principal and interest
- No application fee
- No annual fee
- No points

(There is a nominal charge which includes costs for title search, recording fees and appraisal. Loans can range from $10,000 to $50,000 for up to 5 years. You may borrow up to 70% of the appraised value of your home less the outstanding first mortgage principal.)

Now you can borrow money for home improvements, college education, investment opportunities, a new car, a boat—whatever you want—without the fear of overextending yourself. It's the smart and safe way to unlock the equity in your home.

Forest panel considers Heather Ridge land buy

The Lake County Forest Preserve is expected to consider two parcels in or near Warren Twp. for possible acquisition when it meets Feb. 16.

The land acquisition committee of the Forest Preserve voted 4-0 Friday to consider about 12 acres of woods located in front of the Heather Ridge subdivision in Gurnee.

At a meeting a week earlier, the committee received a request from residents to purchase the land.

Bob Amaden, who made the presentation to the committee, said the issue is "far from being a done deal."

He said while some residents may favor the land being purchased by the Lake County Forest Preserve Dist., others say it would still not be owned by the homeowners. Others may object to a special assessment to pay a 50-50 cost of the land with the forest preserve panel.

The property is wooded in nature with mature oak and ash trees. The committee received a tree count at its last meeting.

Amaden said the board of directors of the Heather Ridge Umbrella Assn. will meet

Feb. 27 at the Heather Ridge Clubhouse and will likely hear a report from the woods committee.

Amaden said the board will then consider its options. An earlier attempt to acquire the land by Heather Ridge Umbrella Assn. failed by three votes.

Another area which will be considered during the meeting in Waukegan will be the 54.5 acres of land adjacent to the district owned Waukegan Savanna. The property consists of undeveloped lots within the Beachview Terrace subdivision west of Green Bay Rd. in Waukegan Twp.

The district is finishing its acquisition of undeveloped lots in Warren Twp. The subdivision was plotted in the 1920s and subsequent zoning regulations have made the individual lots unbuildable without consolidation.

Forest Preserve Dir. Jerrold Soesbe said the site would give the district more options.

The property contains five acres of savanna remnant north of Yorkhouse Rd. and four acres of wetlands. The balance of the property is young forest and old field vegetation.

United Way selects officers

Kenneth W. Farmer, chairman of the board for United Way of Lake County, introduced the newly elected officers at the annual business meeting.

After awards were presented to volunteers in the Planning, Allocations, Gifts-in-Kind, and Volunteer Leadership Development divisions, Farmer, who is vice-president of management information services and administration at Abbott Laboratories, introduced the 1990 executive committee officers as follows: Vice-Chairman of Administration is Ken Jackson, account executive for IBM Corp.; Vice-Chairman of Allocations is Dean's List.

Diane Dreyer of Round Lake Beach has been named to the Dean's List for the Fall Semester at the University of Wisconsin - Parkside.

Marianne Burke, staff

assistant to the director for the VA Medical Center; Vice-Chairman of Corporate Strategy is Teresa Hall Bartels, director of marketing and strategic planning for Manpower Temporary Services.

Vice-Chairman of Finance is Stephen Smurthwaite, director of corporate plant engineering operations for Abbott Laboratories; Vice-Chairman of Marketing is William Saxelby, vice-president of materials management for Baxter Healthcare Corp.; Vice-Chairman of Planning is Cranston Byrd, deputy director for the Lake County Dept. of Planning, Zoning & Environmental Quality; Vice-Chairman of Volunteer Leadership Development is Sheila Rosenquist; and Secretary is Elizabeth Jan Edgar, president of the United Way of Lake County. Farmer will remain chairman of the board for another year.

Additional executive committee members are: Vice-Chairman of Publicity is Neal Anderson, running back for the Chicago Bears; and Immediate Past Chairman is Roy G. Kerr, director of corporate purchasing for Abbott Laboratories.

Lake County At A Glance

Clash with mayor

WADSWORTH--Wadsworth citizens and Mayor Ed Tomkowiak clashed over annexations by the village in the 1970s and a comprehensive plan in 1983. Citizens threatened legal action after Tomkowiak cast the deciding vote following a motion to have an independent attorney give a ruling on legality of annexations. After an earlier motion that the citizens get request information through proper channels failed for lack of a second, the village board voted 3-3 on the independent opinion issue.

Drop dispatch

INDIAN CREEK--Indian Creek residents will have to rely on county dispatch for emergency police and fire calls. The enhanced 911 calls were previously being handled by Vernon Hills. However, Vernon Hills has told Illinois Bell Telephone officials that its enhanced 911 system will include Vernon Hills only, not Indian Creek. Vernon Hills Trustee Richard Cashman said the village called and sent letters to Indian Creek officials to see if they wanted to receive dispatch services under the new enhanced system (passed by the village this past fall), but received no response. Indian Creek Trustee Russ Warnow said he was "shocked" to hear the news because he had heard nothing about this matter at any Indian Creek meetings.

Consider land

WAUKEGAN--The Lake County Forest Preserve is expected to consider two parcels in or near Warren Twp. for possible acquisition when it meets Feb. 16. The land acquisition committee of the Forest Preserve voted 4-0 Friday to consider about 12 acres of woods located in front of the Heather Ridge subdivision in Gurnee. At a meeting a week earlier, the committee received a request from residents to purchase the land.

North Shore look

LAKE VILLA--With a sign ordinance that's been in the works for two years near completion in the Village of Lake Villa, businesses there are beginning to give the village a north shore look with down scaled and fewer signs being displayed. No longer will businesses be permitted to have more than three signs, and no longer will travelers see signs like the one on westbound Grand Ave. that directed them to the Prime Time Saloon, a half mile ahead, or the gas station signs appearing to lurk among the trees. One business owner, Jancy Odel, the proprietor of J.J.'s Restaurant, appealed to the village board when the removal of her portable sign meant she'd have to close the doors for good. When her doors remained open, she said she could not reveal her source, but a village official called and told her the sign may remain out until the ordinance is approved. Business owners like Odel may not like the ordinance, but they are being given seven years to comply with the new requirements.

Threaten to secede

ANTIOCH--Antioch's development director, Don Davis, reported to the village board that property owners west of Deep Lake Rd. are threatening to leave the village and probably annex to Lindenhurst because of the land use plan that only allows three-acre lots. Owner of much of this land annexed to the village last year, Otto Springer, says that there was a verbal agreement with the board that allows one-acre residential lots. Mayor Robert Wilton and the trustees say that no such agreement was ever made. Although word is that the Red Wing Marsh area is for sale and the county is again interested in purchasing it, the village wants to preserve the land in its present state as a dedicated park to the village or a park district.

GOP office flap

LIBERTYVILLE--Township Republican precinct committeemen have joined to protest the opening of the new Lake County Republican Party campaign headquarters in the closed Clifford Chrysler dealership. The facility was never authorized by the party Central Committee. Further aggravating committeemen are huge signs in the headquarters windows for two County Board Dist. 5 candidates not endorsed by Libertyville committeemen.

Dance nears

WADSWORTH--The Newport Fire Dept. will hold its 14th annual Valentine's Dance Feb. 10 at the fire station. The dance will begin at 8 p.m. and end at 1 a.m. with music provided for by the "Rockers". Door prizes will be offered. Proceeds from the event will go towards purchase of new fire suppression and life safety equipment for the all-volunteer fire department. The fire station is located off Wadsworth Rd. in Wadsworth.

Annex Heartland

GRAYSLAKE--The village of Grayslake, by unanimous vote of the board of trustees, annexed and classified most the Heartland settlement Monday night. The more than 700 acres of land made up most of the 801 acres annexed to the village. "The settlement agreement fixed a lot of the densities on the majority of the property," Grayslake Village Manager Mike Ellis said. The North Mills property, located off Center St. and west of Atkinson Rd., will be developed by Cambridge Homes for Cambridge Club project. The remainder of the property, located west of Rte. 83 and south of the Soo Line railroad tracks, will be developed by Lakes Properties Venture, Inc.

Need new facilities

MUNDELEIN--Recommended construction of a new village hall or remodeling the present one, building new west side fire station and/or remodeling the existing facility by completing a second floor plus building a new public works garage or expanding the current garage will cost more than $6 million between now and the year 2010. The expanded facilities are needed to handle the village's expected growth.

IAC announces grants

At the last quarterly meeting of the Illinois Arts Council (IAC), the Council awarded grants to the following individuals and organizations. The funds were derived from the Council's 1990 appropriations from the Illinois General Assembly and supplemented with support from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Funds for the following awards will support artists fellowships, performances of Illinois organizations, ethnic and folk

Mom gets DUI

LINDENHURST--Leslie Loesche, a 31-year-old resident of Lindenhurst and mother of two, was arrested by Lake Villa police and charged with seven violations, among them driving under the influence, failing to secure a child in a car seat or with a seat belt and leaving the scene of an accident. The toddler was her two-year-old daughter who police said was half-clothed in the front seat of the car. Police stopped Loesche on Deep Lake Rd. shortly after she rear-ended a vehicle being driven by Jeffrey A. Neave of Lake Villa. A police report said Loesche sat in a stupor and had no balance when she did get out of the car. She asked police to pick up her five-year-old son at the Camp Ravenswood YMCA on the way to the Antioch Police Station where she was booked. Loesche was released on a personal recognizance bond and given a Feb. 16 court date in Waukegan.

Subdivision plan

WAUCONDA--Wauconda may have a new 62-home subdivision as early as the end of February if plans presented by a developer at last week's meeting of the Public Works Committee are finalized. The subdivision is planned for Anderson Rd. near Rte. 176.

Admin. resigns

LAKE ZURICH--The Lake Zurich Village Board voted unanimously to accept the resignation of Village Adm. Ed Geick, ending the administrator's three-year term. The board also voted to sign an agreement that will end litigation between the village and former Park and Recreation Director Sharon Morris, who sued the village for alleged sexual harassment. Morris named Geick in her suit. Details of both agreements were not released.

Police searching for driver

Grayslake police are investigating an accident which left a Volkswagen

Rabbit in a curious position in downtown Grayslake Tuesday.

Police Chief Ed Wunderle said a 1974 Malibu's driver lost control of his car after passing another vehicle on Center St. The driver then struck a 1984 Volkswagen Rabbit. The Volkswagen was parked near Home Federal Savings. The car hit the bushes next to the bank.

The Volkswagen is owned by Alex Jimenez of Grayslake.

The driver whose car hit the Volkswagen left the scene.

Grayslake police are searching for the driver. Wunderle said there were good descriptions given by eyewitnesses.

CRYSTAL LAKE
HONDA

Remember the thrill of your first new car?

So many people were thrilled with the Honda Accord last year that it was the best selling car in America. Now it's even better for 1990! And the thrill you experience comes from driving away in a new Honda and knowing you received the best deal at Crystal Lake Honda.
